Viet Cong Offer To Halt Fighting 12 Hours Christmas

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A strong Viet Cong force encircled and virtually destroyed an elite South Vietnamese ranger battalion today near the coastal town of Tam Ky, 350 miles northeast of Saigon.

The Communists struck from all sides, inflicting heavy casualties on the Vietnamese troops as well as their American advisers. Between 30 and 50 wounded Vietnamese rangers were lifted out of the battle area by helicopter.

The attack broke a two-day lull in the ground action and came after a Viet Cong offer to call off the war for 12 hours starting Christmas Eve "to allow people on the other side to celebrate Christmas in peace."

Although security regulations prevented identification of the ranger unit, it was described as one of the best in the South Vietnamese army and had been a veteran of heavy combat. The battle erupted near Route 1, the vital north-south coastal highway.

A Vietnamese battalion usually numbers about 500 men.

U.S. air attacks continued unabated over North and South Viet Nam. Bridges and roads around Dien Bien Phu were attacked.

A U.S. Marine F4 Phantom jet with two men aboard was reported downed on an escort mission over North Viet Nam. The fate of the pilot and his observer was not known.

Some 20 F105 Thunderchief jets hit Communist supply lines near Dien Bien Phu, scene of the great French defeat 11 years ago. In the South, other planes drove off an unknown number of black pajama-clad Viet Cong harassing a government outpost 15 miles northwest of Rach Gia, a town in southwest Viet Nam. Three guerrillas were reported killed.

U.S. military headquarters reported another decline in weekly American casualties with 19 Americans killed, 161 wounded and two missing in action in the seven-day period that ended last Saturday. The figures included the terrorist attack on an enlisted men's billet in Saigon Saturday but not the big battle involving the U.S. 1st Division Sunday.

The Vietnamese rangers were hit by Communists hidden in canefields about 6 miles west of Tam Ky, which lies in the 50-mile coastal strip between the major U.S. Marine bases at Chu Lai and Da Nang. The battle showed the difficulty of establishing a firm ground link between the two Leatherneck beachheads.

PASSING THE GOAL. United Fund campaign leaders were jubilant over the district's support which put the 1965 drive over the $115,000 goal. Left to right are Steve Cooper, publicity chairman; Joseph Hutchinson, public affairs chairman; Richard Martin, campaign chairman; Donald McGillivray, Mercantile A chairman, and Harold Ossman, Chester chairman.

Feeling Mounts On More Costly War

Johnson Expected To Get OK On Any Defense Fund

WASHINGTON (AP) — With a mounting feeling in Congress that the Viet Nam war is going to get bigger and more costly, President Johnson seems likely to get overwhelming approval for any defense figure he may propose next month in his new budget.

The President is working on the military budget at his Texas ranch. He said Monday that in aiding the South Vietnamese to resist aggression "we are going to supply whatever men will be needed for that effort."

Even before the new budget goes to Congress, the administration is expected to ask supplemental funds to boost the $1.7 billion already tacked on the current fiscal year's outlays because of mounting war costs.

If the new supplemental request is less than $1 billion, many members of Congress will be surprised.

Whatever budget cutting Congress does next year — and it may not be extensive if the economy continues to roll along in high gear — probably will be carried out on foreign aid and some domestic programs.

More and more, there is a feeling among many Congress members that the Viet Nam struggle is far from its peak.

Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, has said he sees no alternative to a substantial step-up in American participation in the fighting and the broadening of attacks on the Communists.

Like Russell, Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., has called for action to knock out the principal North Viet Nam harbor of Haiphong. As head of the Senate Preparedness subcommittee, he is predicting "hard and bitter and bloody" fighting that may last several years.

McBundy Leaves Post As White House Aide

JOHNSON CITY, TEX. (AP)— The Texas White House announced today the resignation of McGeorge Bundy as President Johnson's special assistant for national security affairs. The future of the job was left cloudy.

Bundy, 46, will leave the White House staff Feb. 28 to become president of the Ford Foundation at a reported salary of $75,000 a year. His present salary is $28,500 a year.

For Fourth Straight Year

United Fund Goes Over The Top With $115,640 Reported To Date

For the fourth consecutive year, the East Liverpool United Fund has surpassed its goal—on the basis of money collected and pledges — the board of trustees was told Tuesday night.

Richard C. Martin, campaign chairman, said collections and pledges currently total $115,640, topping the $115,000 goal set for the 1965 drive.

Martin said additional money is expected from various industries, businesses and others who have not yet filed returns.

HE EMPHASIZED, however, it is vital for all donors to complete their pledges because there will be some losses in payroll deductions for a number of workers who have been given temporary layoffs in the steel industry in recent weeks.

Furthermore, some agencies were not allotted their requests in full and extra funds obtained in the campaign will permit extra payments to them, Martin pointed out.

A surplus in collections in the 1964 campaign permitted an extra payment to the agencies only last month, Richard Emmerling, president of the organization, said.

Campaign workers still to complete their collections were urged to finish their work in full in order to make the drive a complete success.

Among the firms which have not completed their returns are American Vitrified Products Co., the Croxall Chemical Co., the McIntosh - Hemphill Division of Bliss Co., the T K Roofing Co., the W. C. Bunting Co. and the Ohio Valley Gas Co.

The Homer Laughlin China Co. has completed about one - fourth of its collections.

Martin expressed appreciation to the division chairmen and their volunteer workers who assisted in achievement of the fund goal.

They included Mrs. J. D. Thompson, professional and advanced gifts; Sidney Porter, industrial; Joseph Hutchinson, public affairs; Don McGillivray, mercantile A; James McGowan, mercantile B; Robert Gray, Newell; Edgar Shingler, public service, Harold Ossman, Chester, and Steve Cooper, publicity.

Martin also paid tribute to the late William Cooper, whose organizational work and promotion of the payroll deduction plan has helped make a success of the drive, he said.

Emmerling said the fullfillment of the goal is testimony not only to the work of the campaign volunteers but to the community, which believes the single - drive program with payroll deductions is the best answer to support of the various service agencies.

He urged all such agencies to join the United Fund, adding it is expected a number of new organizations will file for admittance prior to the 1966 deadline in March.

The agencies now in the fund organization include the YMCA, Red Cross, Boy Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, Salvation Army, Child Counseling Center, Cerebral Palsy, Catholic Service Bureau, Child Health Clinic, Chester - Newell Girl Scouts, Recreation Council and the U.S.O.

Gemini 7 Astronauts Streak On

Crucial Ground Rehearsal Scheduled For Gemini 6

SPACE CENTER, Houston, Tex. (AP)—The Gemini 7 astronauts, hearty and healthy after nearly four days in space, streaked on toward a record two weeks today while Gemini 6 planned a crucial ground rehearsal for next week's attempt to rendezvous the two high in the sky.

Air Force Lt. Col. Frank Borman and Navy Cmdr. James A. Lovell Jr. passed the 1½-million-mile mark of their daring journey early today with their four-ton spacecraft working like a charm.

Gemini 7 began its 55th orbit at 4:46 a.m. (EST).

Space agency officials weren't sure whether Gemini 6 would get off the ground Sunday or Monday. A computer problem in the spacecraft considerably reduced the chances of a Sunday launching.

Officials said Monday was a more likely target date. If there are additional troubles, Gemini 6 could be launched as late as Friday, Dec. 17.

The computer's electronic memory became scrambled during a test at Cape Kennedy Tuesday and the instrument had to be replaced. This delayed the start of the Gemini 6 rehearsal at least 17 hours — until 5 p.m. (EST) today at the earliest.

The Gemini 6 astronauts, Navy Capt. Walter M. Schirra Jr. and Air Force Maj. Thomas P. Stafford, will need the computer to calculate their intricate orbit-shifting maneuvers during the planned 103,000-mile pursuit of Gemini 6.

The two pairs of astronauts hope to fly in formation, perhaps only inches apart, for about six hours.

Borman and Lovell shifted Gemini 7's orbital course Tuesday in a step toward a desired orbit for the rendezvous. Command pilot Borman fired jet thrusters to increase their speed by eight miles an hour and raised the low point of their path from 138 to 146 miles above the earth. The high point remained at 197 miles.

Later, they will alter course so both the high and low points are 185 miles. It is at this altitude that Gemnii 6 hopes to complete its pursuit and move in close to Gemini 7.

The Gemini 7 pilots remained in excellent spirits, helped along by several hours of music piped from the ground to their cramped cabin.

Before they retired for the night, they received 90 minutes of uninterrupted music, including excerpts from the opera "La Boheme," Schumann's "Symphony No. 3," Rachmaninoff's "Symphony No. 2," "Water Music" by Handel and "Try to Remember."

When the list of longhair music was announced by a ground controller, Borman commented: "Don't scare me."

The controller then told him: "We're sorry, but there will be no in-flight movies tonight."

Eugene Kranz, late-shift flight director, reported the Gemini 7 spacecraft was in great shape.

Joint Chiefs Will Confer With Johnson

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson's latest search for ways to provide more men, equipment and money for the war in Viet Nam will reach a new stage Saturday with the Joint Chiefs of Staff given a say-so in vital budget decisions.

Johnson conferred for more than seven hours at his ranch home Tuesday with Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

Among other things, the Texas White House said, the officials "studied various budgetary matters affecting the national security preliminary to a session the President will have Saturday morning on the defense budget" with the Joint Chiefs, McNamara and Deputy Secretary of Defense Cyrus R. Vance.

This meeting presumably will give the Pentagon's uniformed chiefs a chance to give Johnson their views on the manpower, weapons and money they regard as essential.

Traditionally, the uniformed services seek more funds and larger programs than the President finally approves. The budgetary pinch on some programs may be particularly acute this year because of Johnson's desire to offset, as much as possible, the mounting cost of operations in Viet Nam.

The President's ranch meeting with Rusk and McNamara was described as intensive. In addition to a preliminary discussion of the defense budget that will go to Congress next month, Johnson got a firsthand report from McNamara "on the status of operations in South Viet Nam." McNamara spent 28 hours in Saigon last week, getting briefed by top officials on the scene.

Spanish Plane Crash Kills All 32 Aboard

SANTA CRUZ DE TENERIFE, Canary Islands (AP) — A chartered Spanish DC3 plane carrying Scandinavian tourists crashed into a house and burned after taking off from Santa Cruz in a windy rainstorm Tuesday night, killing all 32 persons aboard. Two occupants of the house were gravely injured.

Officials said the plane apparently was turning back to the Rodeos airport on this Spanish Atlantic island with one engine on fire. It had started for Las Palmas on Grand Canary Island.

The twin-engine plane carried 28 passengers and a crew of four. The passengers were believed to have been Swedes, Danes and Norwegians on a holiday.

'I Will Run,' Cabinet Told By De Gaulle

PARIS (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle told a weekly meeting of the French cabinet today that "naturally" he would be a candidate for a new seven-year term in the run-off presidential election Dec. 19.

De Gaulle's decision was announced by Information Minister Alain Peyrefitte after the Cabinet meeting.

There had been speculation before the first election round last Sunday that De Gaulle might withdraw if he failed to get the 50 per cent of the vote plus one required for election on the first try. De Gaulle got 44.63 per cent, which sent him into a run-off with leftist Francois Mitterrand, the No. 2 man who got 31.71 per cent.

Despite the speculation, informed sources reported Tuesday night that De Gaulle had decided to run.

Space Center Not All Geared To Gemini 7

SPACE CENTER, Houston, Tex. (AP)—Not all the work at the mammoth space center is geared to the Gemini 7 astronauts.

A full-scale tracking network simulation was scheduled today on the first Apollo moonflight test, scheduled for the first quarter of next year.

Can't Meet With Johnson

Soviet Premier Says U.S. Whips Up War Tensions

MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Alexei N. Kosygin has accused the United States of whipping up war tensions, arming West Germany against the Soviet Union and killing defenseless people in Viet Nam.

In a restatement of recent Soviet comments on foreign affairs, Kosygin said Soviet leaders could not meet with President Johnson so long as the war in Viet Nam continues.

Kosygin's remarks, reported today by the official Soviet news agency Tass, were made Monday in an interview with James Reston, an associate editor of the New York Times.

It was the third interview Kosygin has given to a foreign journalist since he succeeded Premier Nikita Khrushchev in October 1964. A Turkish journalist and a British newspaper owner saw him earlier.

Kosygin concluded the interview with an expression of hope that war would not hang over the world — after earlier accusing the United States of "creating an atmosphere conducive to war" in Europe.

"We do not want tension built up in any part of the world," Kosygin said. "We want to bend every effort in every part of the world to achieve these ends.

"To this effort, the United States is the principal barrier. We could have the best possible relations with the American people. We value the American people's wisdom, talents and abilities — all their achievements. We are ready to learn from them to develop technology and science, and to organize production."

This kind of statement is seldom heard publicly in the Soviet Union and was not immediately published here. The rest of Kosygin's remarks followed lines made familiar by Pravda editorials denouncing the United States.

Jurors To Be Named

The first 30 in the venire will be named for possible service as members of the Grand Jury and the other 170 will be prospective petit jurors.

Hearing Gets Under Way In Phillis Firing

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A former matron of the Columbiana County Home was among initial witnesses today as the State Personnel Board of Review opened hearings on the dismissal of the home superintendent.

Mrs. Martha Jewell, who resigned as matron last July 7, testified that Russell Phillis, the superintendent, fired recently by county commissioners, often drank whisky at the home "all day long."

Mrs. Jewell also told the board that Phillis at times "teased and tormented" the patients.

Both counsel for Phillis and county commissioners said they would call a total of about 24 witnesses before the board.

Earl W. Allison, chairman, did not indicate whether the board would have a decision at the end of the hearing or whether they would take the case under advisement. It was doubtful the hearing would end today.

The county commissioners discharged Phillis for alleged failure to perform his duties, intoxication on the job, and for mistreating patients.

East Liverpool Residents To 'Star' In Local Movie

Few East Liverpool residents have considered a movie career, but many shortly will be able to see themselves in a narrated motion picture which will be filmed in the community.

Bill Chalfont, contact representative for Associated Film Productions of Akron, said the film, on 35 millimeters, will be shown at the Columbia Theater, the date to be announced.

Action pictures involving the museum at Carnegie Library, the football team, bands, high school seniors, civic and service organizations, widely-known local personalities, police and fire departments and "shots" of the library, postal employes and a number of business establishments will be featured, Chalfont said.

He explained that a number of businesses will participate by acting as sponsors to defray the costs.

Harry Kunkleman, who began his work more than 40 years ago as a newsreel cameraman, is the chief photographer.

Chalfont said the company has made movies in Salem, New Philadelphia, Wadsworth, Ashland and in many communities in central and eastern Pennsylvania. He said some cities have shown movies the firm took 25 years ago along with a recent film, with the "changing scene" adding to the enjoyment.

The black-and-white film is scheduled to be shown with a full-length family type feature.

The film will remain here permanently, Chalfont said, and can be shown later if desired.

Lisbon Sets Salary Hike For Faculty

LISBON — An average increase of $110 for teachers in the Lisbon School District was authorized by the board of education at a meeting Tuesday night.

The salary adjustment, to go into effect in January, will be for eight months, after which another revision of the pay schedule is planned, officials said.

The Lisbon Teachers Association had requested an increase above the $110 average, setting a schedule which is planned for next September but which lies within the authority of the members of the board to take office in January.

In other matters, the board approved a resolution accepting the budget commission's certification of income which would be derived from local taxes for operation of Lisbon schools during 1966.

The only new business transacted included authorizing the clerk to reimburse the board members for regular meetings attended during 1965 and approving continued membership in the Ohio School Boards Association.

Supt. Oliver H. Payne reported that David Anderson High School will be evaluated by a North Central Association visitation team in 1966, with the costs being borne by the Board of Education.

Payne said Principal George Nace will not serve on the team of evaluators when it is in Lisbon, but that Nace has been granted permission to serve when the team visits other schools.

Payne also reported that he has asked Glenn Ward, a Lisbon plumber, to place a drain in front of the high school doors to help relieve a drainage problem.

William A. Miller, division of operations engineer at the department of highways Division 11 at New Philadelphia, recommended placing of the drain in preference to moving the uneven concrete slabs in front of the building.

Attending the meeting were Mrs. Ruth James, Mrs. Marian Ramsay and Forrest Lowry, members elected in November who will assume office Jan. 3 at 7:30 p.m.

Lisbon Kiwanis To Hear Officer; Committees Set

LISBON — The Navy will be discussed during the Thursday noon luncheon of the Lisbon Kiwanis Club at the Eagles dining room.

The speaker, Lt. John Smotzer, is commanding officer of the U. S. Naval Reserve Unit at Canton. Lt. Smotzer is on active duty at the training center.

In addition to his remarks, he will screen a color and sound film on the present sea power of the Navy.

The program chairman is the Rev. Ralph Green, who is a naval reserve chaplain serving one day a week at the training center.

Meanwhile, committee chairmen for the club were announced by Cornell Monda, incoming president.

Dan Myers, second vice president, will serve as coordinator on monthly reports, in addition to heading the finance and program and music groups.

Other committee heads are: Oliver Payne, vocational guidance; Monty Muntean, Key Club; the Rev. Green, boys' and girls' work; Bob MacAleese, agriculture and conservation; Carl Turk, international relations, and Stuart Dunn, public and business affairs.

Bill Harper, support of churches; Bennett Taylor, achievement; Pete Gallo, house; Don Lewis, inter-club relations; Jim MacDonald, laws and regulations; Ed Toolis, membership; George Lafferty, Kiwanis education and fellowship; Jack Beck, public relations; Leon Zahrndt, reception, and Ken Hiscox, attendance.

Judge Jails Man For 2 Months On Lack Of License

LISBON — A Guernsey County man Tuesday was sentenced in Southwest Area County Court to 60 days in the county jail on a charge of driving without an operator's license.

James R. Moser, 24, pleaded guilty before Judge J. L. MacDonald, who ordered the defendant committed to the County Jail.

The judge said the unusual jail term was ordered because Moser never had obtained a license.

In other court action, Boyd Marcum, 20, of Lisbon R. D. 2, was fined a total of $70 on two traffic charges. He was fined $50 for permitting an unlicensed minor to operate a motor vehicle and $20 for operating a motor vehicle with registration plates belonging to another.

Thomas R. Kennedy, 52, of Salineville was fined $25 for failing to stop within 10 feet of school bus. He pleaded no contest.

Anthony J. Colian, 67, of Salem was fined $5 for permitting a truckload to sift onto the highway.

Raise Makes Sense If Vodrey Stays

The finance committee of City Council is investigating a proposal from Mayor George E. Willshaw to raise the salary of the safety-service director's office by $1,200 annually — from $6,600 to $7,800.

In asking the salary increase in a letter to Council Monday night, the mayor pointed out that the director works long hours and sometimes is subject to unjustified abuse from the public. The points are well taken.

The director's office is by far the most important in a municipal sense. The mayor sets the tone of an administration and makes recommendations in a general way that are aimed to improve the operation or make it more efficient.

But when the chips are down, it is the director who is charged directly with the day-to-day operations of four important departments—fire, police, incinerator and street—in addition to a host of other duties.

A good case can be made for the suggestion to raise the director's salary. If the city is to continue to attract intelligent, hard-working men to the almost thankless job, the pay must be at least reasonably attractive.

Which brings up the major point: Mayor Willshaw's letter to Council did not indicate who will administer the safety - service director's office for the next two years.

Robert E. Vodrey, who took over the office in early 1964, was retained by Mr. Willshaw when Mayor Merrill D. Hall resigned last fall. Calm and incisive in his decisions, he has brought a sense of orderliness to the administration of his office.

Several members of Council wisely said Monday night that they would like to know who will serve in the director's office in the mayor's new term before reaching a decision on the salary request.

It is another point well taken. Certainly the capabilities of the man holding the job will be a big factor in the decision whether a salary increase is warranted.

Council said, in effect, "A pay raise for whom?" It's a legitimate question.

The Review feels that Mr. Vodrey has served well and capably for nearly two years in the most responsible office in the city government and that for the good of the community he should be retained in the new Willshaw administration.

If he is asked to serve again, and agrees, the salary increase would be well-justified and the public could rest assured it would receive a dollar's worth of effort for every dollar expended.

At The Top Of The List

The West Virginia Road Commission at Charleston has announced plans to launch a program designed to wipe out so-called death traps on the state's highways.

Commissioner Burl A. Sawyers says priority will be given to eliminating hazards on primary roads in the state, with action on secondary roads due later.

Federal highway officials announced recently that the states must eliminate such road hazards or suffer the loss of federal highway funds.

At the top or near the top of the list of such projects should be speedy action on twisting, hilly Route 30 which leads into Chester and which has been the scene of many accidents over the years.

This group and that group has sought corrective measures from time to time in an effort to reduce the odds which now lean heavily in the direction of traffic accidents. With the word from Charleston, it's possible real progress may be in the offing.

Commissioner Sawyers said some of the proposed measures include the widening of narrow traffic lanes, flattening of side slopes, removal of roadside obstructions of various nature and installation of traffic control and protective devices.

It is to be hoped that the state has more than minor measures in mind for the Route 30 stretch. While any work undertaken can't help but be costly, a complete new approach is needed, with "straightening" to erase the many dangerous curves and grades which now exist.

Mere traffic control and protective devices would not be the final answer to the needs of Route 30.

Cause And Effect In Los Angeles

The Watts district riots that unnerved Los Angeles last August caused the city to take official stock of one of its chronic problems. The riots could have been seen coming, according to a blue-ribbon commission of stock-takers.

What happened in August may be only the forerunner of something worse unless the cause of last summer's devastating riots is eased by municipal action. The commission bears down hard on this warning.

The blue-ribbon commission has done a painstaking job of searching out provocations it believes added fuel to the smoldering fire in the Watts district last summer. The fire is still smoldering, it believes. Future security cannot be taken for granted.

Here is, by any measure of appraisal, the most significant thing that has come out of riots in great cities like New York, Los Angeles, Philadelphia, Chicago and Cleveland — the acknowledgment after the fact that trouble was a predictable consequence.

This has been accompanied by proposals for corrective measures to get rid of provocations, on the theory that future riots can be averted if the potential rioters think their grievances have been noted.

It is a momentous theory.

It says human behavior is determined by environment.

It says the misbehavior of minorities of Negroes within the Negro minority as a whole can be corrected automatically by a redress of "grievances."

It holds the white majority responsible for the acts of lawless elements within the Negro minority. These are such wide-ranging assumptions they are controversial by their nature. They seem to deny the existence of self-discipline as the cardinal element in good social behavior.

The fact cannot be blinked that most of the Negroes in Watts last August and most Negroes wherever riots have occurred in cities were self-disciplined and orderly and deplored the riots. Only a few pillaged, looted and ran amuck.

Can their misconduct be blamed on something that wasn't done by other residents, or should it be blamed on them— for something they didn't do to themselves?

It Couldn't Be Clearer

The nationwide shriek of pain that greets every Defense Department pruning of unneeded military facilities makes clear the connection between militarism and the national economy.

What is behind the shrieks of pain is the realization by the communities in which the bases are situated that payrolls are going to shrink and business is going to be hurt.

This realization thereupon is translated by political spokesmen into impassioned declarations that national defense will be undermined if some facility that has served no directly useful purpose for years is put out of commission.

When the ever-lengthening indictment for his political misdemeanors finally is completed, Defense Secretary McNamara may well point with greatest pride to his closing of no-longer-needed military installations.

He has approached this responsibility of his Cabinet post with an objectivity that stranded his political critics. Many of them, perhaps most of them, had to admire him for his courage even while going through the motions of skinning him alive for offending their constituents back home.

No one knows better than a politician where public money is being distributed for somewhat less than worthy purposes, because most politicians depend on political persuasion to force such expenditures. They know all the tricks.

Secretary McNamara, knowing this, has to use some tricks of his own. The principal one in his category is to act first and talk afterward. Every time he has ordered additional pruning of no-longer-needed facilities, there has been the same anguished outcry. And everytime there has been a net reduction in bases, shipyards etc. It's brutal but it works.

Try A Better Name?

By Truman Twill

I am glad to see a flurry of interest in the old-fashioned night shirt for men.

My father wouldn't have gone to bed in anything but a night shirt. When you come down to it, nothing else is worth going to bed in if the idea is to be comfortable.

The only reason night shirts ceased to be universal for both men and women is that they did nothing for a man's dignity. Even though women wore their night "gowns" modishly long, men were togged out in shorter versions—"shirts" instead of "gowns."

The closest squeak I ever had to breaking up the engagement that ultimately led to marriage was the sight of my father parading in a night shirt through the garden at daybreak with a nickle-plated revolver gleaming in his hand.

My bride-to-be spied this apparition from her bedroom window and screamed an alarm. It took the combined persuasion of my mother and myself to bring her back to her customary state of composure. Father, she was told, was only stalking a marauding dog that had been killing the family chickens. She had feared the worst — a family of homicidal maniacs.

No man ever looked trustworthy, dignified and in possession of his faculties in a night shirt. This accounted for the success of pajamas when they came into style.

Why pajamas appealed to women is a mystery. Any woman could look good in a nightgown if she tries. It may take some lace on the top, some tatting on the bottom and a little peek-a-boo in between, but the over-all effect is comparable to an evening gown.

In truth, many an evening gown has been suspected of plebian origins as a night gown. This accounts for the fact night gowns have remained popular with women.

During the latest of the Republic's declared wars — World War II — manufacturers quit making night shirts. This was a blow to an elderly gentleman of my acquaintance. Only by hard persuasion was he converted to flannel pajamas.

When the war ended, night shirts came back on the market, in limited supply. The gentleman's daughter bought a fresh supply and presented them to her father, expecting an outpouring of gratitude. Instead, he scowled and asked petulantly why on earth he would want to wear night shirts instead of his "jammies."

Night shirts are coming back. It isn't any too soon. Not that I intend to buy any, because I wear a light bathrobe to bed on cold nights —a heavy bathrobe on extremely cold nights. With a little imagination, an observer can think of these as "sleep coats," a glib euphemism for night shirts.

Why don't they give the things a better name and sell them by the millions?

Where Casualties Are Never 'Light'

Reds Plant New 'Front' Move

By Victor Riesel

This bit of the past will explain much of the future:

Back in February 1934, Communist shock troops invaded a mass labor rally in Madison Square Garden. The Stalinists stormed in shouting "Unite and Fight" — meaning join in a united front to fight a common enemy. The crowd refused to unite. The Communists chose to fight.

Victor Riesel

It was the biggest battle ever staged at the Garden. There was much blood, much bitterness, no unity.

A year later, at the meeting of the Seventh Congress of the Comintern (inside jargon for Communist International) an easier soft-sell policy was developed. Gently, persuasively, Soviet propagandists attempted to woo labor and the left into a "united front."

In the U.S. the Communist party rolled up some 80,000 members. Scores of other thousands rallied to it.

Then in 1943 the Comintern was dissolved. The cold war cracked the united front. It died.

NOW, AWAY OFF in the distance, soon to be heard ever louder and louder, the Communist propagandists and activists are calling on labor and the slivered left to join them in a new mass "united front." The Soviet drive awaits only the creation of another centralized Communist International organization to push it into the U.S. and all free lands.

Now comes word that new Communist International organization will be launched in the spring. It will be complete with a professional executive committee to handle day-to-day problems.

This word of a new Comintern comes from a truly self-effacing man, Louis Nichols, who is so esteemed by some of American's top newsmen that they would go swiftly to their typewriters to report the coming visit of Mao to Johnson City, if "Louis" said it were so.

Mr. Nichols, who has been closely observing the buregeoning Comintern, was for many years an assistant to the director of the FBI and thus one of the three men who ran the bureau. He is a literate man, as familiar with Friedrich Nietzsche and Karl Marx as with John Dillinger and Al Capone.

HAVING LABORED in the vaguely unfinancial vineyards of the government for two decades, he now is executive vice president of Schenley Industries, Inc. He is not, however, far from the geyser-ing fonts.

Recently he marshaled a series of official Communist actions and speeches to party comrades by the Soviet's little known theoreticians. The latter were particularly concentrated in the period from July 25 to Aug. 21, 1965, when "the Communists celebrated with special emphasis the 30th anniversary of their Seventh World Congress, the last and most important Comintern meeting prior to its dissolution. . . . This 1965 celebration became a springboard for launching a return to the 'united front' concept."

For the newcomers to reports of what is heard on the left, it must be explained that the "united front" tactic is the offering by the Communist world apparatus of aid in any fight. This could be on traffic congestion, corruption, housing, sewers, political candidacies — and for world peace and democracy, Soviet style.

TACTICALLY, it means burying revolutionary zeal and patter and infiltrating cultural, liberal, political and labor groups wherever possible. And let the conservatives not believe they're free from such enticements either.

If the labor and political and liberal leaders recognize and rebuff the Communists and reject their offer of money and manpower, the Comintern-ites do not simply go away. They launch new innocent fronts as a lure.

One of the forces the Communists will invade will be the labor movement.

"The veteran leadership of labor has been through the fire," said Mr. Nichols to an old friend the other day. "They have withstood the raids from the left on memberships and treasuries. They have been tested.

"However, there is a need for the younger leaders, the younger rank and file, to make themselves knowledgeable before they are forced to go through the same heartbreaking, and backbreaking, fights which their movement underwent three decades ago."

THOSE OF US who watch little-noted events abroad see Mr. Nichols borne out. The powerful British Labor movement, the Trades Union Congress, on Oct. 27 voted to send a fraternal delegation to the Soviet's all trade union convention.

The German labor movement, overriding the objections of its president, Ludwig Rosenberg, has voted for cultural and labor exchanges with Russian labor.

The French Socialist and Communist parties, which have powerful labor movements, are in a political popular front.

United front-ism of the '30s is crowding in on the U.S. It will be fascinating to see whether it does as well with the beat generation as it did with the lost generation.

Reserve Board's Action Reviewed

President Johnson has set up for himself a flexible alibi—he can't be blamed for what happens now that the Federal Reserve Board has increased interest rates. But if the economy proves strong enough to weather the storm, the administration could be in a position anyway to claim credit for having prevented an economic setback.

David Lawrence

The President, while criticizing the Federal Reserve Board for raising interest rates, pointedly referred to the board as an "independent agency." Thus, he indicated that he does not feel responsible for the consequences of the action taken.

The President's reasons for differing with the board may be politically expedient but they could also turn out to have a restraining effect in keeping the board from taking further steps in raising interest rates.

It so happens, for instance, that in the last 4½ decades, the Federal Reserve Board has played an important part in the economic sequence of events.

In the boom of 1919-1920, the Federal Reserve Board raised the interest in Federal Reserve loans to member banks on three successive occasions. This proved more effective than expected. In fact, the stock market dropped and a depression followed as industrial output fell one-third.

AGAIN, IN THE BOOM of 1928-1929, the discount rate had been raised four times in order to prevent excessive speculation, and the stock market crashed in October 1929 after the fourth hike in interest rates. The worst depression in history ensued in the 1930s.

In the boom of 1936-1937, credit was again tightened by the Federal Reserve Board, and stock prices declined. Industrial output also went down by at least one-third.

During the boom of 1948, money-tightening came in three steps. Again industrial output started downward and stock-market prices declined.

In the boom of 1952-1953, credit restraint was mild, and the recession that followed was caused mainly by cutbacks in federal spending after the Korean War was over.

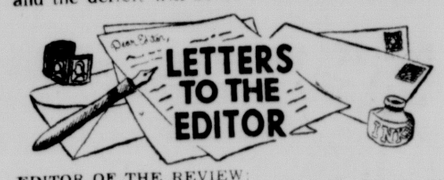
The next example of Federal Reserve intervention was in the boom of 1955-1957, when the Federal Reserve discount rate was raised seven times within 29 months. Stock prices declined and industrial production fell, reaching a low point in 1958.

In the next boom—from 1958 to 1960—the Federal Reserve Board raised its rates five times in succession, to the highest point in many years.

IN THE PRESENT instance, the Federal Reserve Board has increased its rates on three successive occasions — in July 1963, in November 1964, and this week. On each of these occasions, the interest rate was raised by one-half of one per cent—in all, from 3 per cent to 4½ per cent. It's not the amount of the increase itself that is so significant as the trend that it starts, because restraints upon borrowing are applied gradually but with steadily mounting pressures.

Businesses that might have been planning more and more expansion based on borrowed money now may find interest rates too high and decide to postpone such plans until conditions become a little more settled. Just what the effect of such hesitancy in a cumulative sense will be is hard to determine at this time.

The impact on government policies is of prime importance. The President had announced already that government spending would go up considerably above $100 billion this fiscal year, and the deficit will be between $7 and $8 billion.



EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

We, as seniors of Southern Local, would like to voice our opinions concerning our school issues which were defeated on Nov. 2.

As seniors we are just beginning to see life. We understand that in order to get the education that is so important in this world today we need good teachers, more and better equipment and up-to-date books.

We are fortunate to have teachers who have stayed with us despite the problems they have had to face. But how are we going to keep them? Do we expect them to stay when they can get higher wages in another district? Do you realize that Southern Local teachers are the lowest paid teachers in the county? All other teachers in the county receive $300 to $700 more per year.

Concerning more and better equipment, is it needed? We think so, when we can't even finish our Science experiments properly. Industrial Arts needs more in the line of mechanical equipment, such as motors and transmissions.

Physical Education needs gymnastic materials so that us young people can achieve the physical fitness that our late President Kennedy strived for. Our Home Economics department needs more space. Chairs, which are used for other classes, crowd our kitchen. Our culinary utensils such as skillets, pastry boards and mixing bowls are running low. Not one of our departments can function properly. Today in this age of discovery, how do you expect us to compete with other students?

We hope the people of Southern Local School District will take into consideration the needs of their children in the district and vote Yes for both issues on Dec. 14. Remember a better school is started by the complete backing from the entire community.

Raise Makes Sense If Vodrey Stays

The finance committee of City Council is investigating a proposal from Mayor George E. Willshaw to raise the salary of the safety-service director's office by $1,200 annually — from $6,600 to $7,800.

In asking the salary increase in a letter to Council Monday night, the mayor pointed out that the director works long hours and sometimes is subject to unjustified abuse from the public. The points are well taken.

The director's office is by far the most important in a municipal sense. The mayor sets the tone of an administration and makes recommendations in a general way that are aimed to improve the operation or make it more efficient.

But when the chips are down, it is the director who is charged directly with the day-to-day operations of four important departments—fire, police, incinerator and street—in addition to a host of other duties.

A good case can be made for the suggestion to raise the director's salary. If the city is to continue to attract intelligent, hard-working men to the almost thankless job, the pay must be at least reasonably attractive.

Which brings up the major point: Mayor Willshaw's letter to Council did not indicate who will administer the safety - service director's office for the next two years.

Robert E. Vodrey, who took over the office in early 1964, was retained by Mr. Willshaw when Mayor Merrill D. Hall resigned last fall. Calm and incisive in his decisions, he has brought a sense of orderliness to the administration of his office.

Several members of Council wisely said Monday night that they would like to know who will serve in the director's office in the mayor's new term before reaching a decision on the salary request.

It is another point well taken. Certainly the capabilities of the man holding the job will be a big factor in the decision whether a salary increase is warranted.

Council said, in effect, "A pay raise for whom?" It's a legitimate question.

The Review feels that Mr. Vodrey has served well and capably for nearly two years in the most responsible office in the city government and that for the good of the community he should be retained in the new Willshaw administration.

If he is asked to serve again, and agrees, the salary increase would be well-justified and the public could rest assured it would receive a dollar's worth of effort for every dollar expended.

At The Top Of The List

The West Virginia Road Commission at Charleston has announced plans to launch a program designed to wipe out so-called death traps on the state's highways.

Commissioner Burl A. Sawyers says priority will be given to eliminating hazards on primary roads in the state, with action on secondary roads due later.

Federal highway officials announced recently that the states must eliminate such road hazards or suffer the loss of federal highway funds.

At the top or near the top of the list of such projects should be speedy action on twisting, hilly Route 30 which leads into Chester and which has been the scene of many accidents over the years.

This group and that group has sought corrective measures from time to time in an effort to reduce the odds which now lean heavily in the direction of traffic accidents. With the word from Charleston, it's possible real progress may be in the offing.

Commissioner Sawyers said some of the proposed measures include the widening of narrow traffic lanes, flattening of side slopes, removal of roadside obstructions of various nature and installation of traffic control and protective devices.

It is to be hoped that the state has more than minor measures in mind for the Route 30 stretch. While any work undertaken can't help but be costly, a complete new approach is needed, with "straightening" to erase the many dangerous curves and grades which now exist.

Mere traffic control and protective devices would not be the final answer to the needs of Route 30.

The next example of Federal Reserve intervention was in the boom of 1955-1957, when the Federal Reserve discount rate was raised seven times within 29 months. Stock prices declined and industrial production fell, reaching a low point in 1958.

In the next boom—from 1958 to 1960—the Federal Reserve Board raised its rates five times in succession, to the highest point in many years.

IN THE PRESENT instance, the Federal Reserve Board has increased its rates on three successive occasions — in July 1963, in November 1964, and this week. On each of these occasions, the interest rate was raised by one-half of one per cent—in all, from 3 per cent to 4½ per cent. It's not the amount of the increase itself that is so significant as the trend that it starts, because restraints upon borrowing are applied gradually but with steadily mounting pressures.

Businesses that might have been planning more and more expansion based on borrowed money now may find interest rates too high and decide to postpone such plans until conditions become a little more settled. Just what the effect of such hesitancy in a cumulative sense will be is hard to determine at this time.

The impact on government policies is of prime importance. The President had announced already that government spending would go up considerably above $100 billion this fiscal year, and the deficit will be between $7 and $8 billion.

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW

We, as seniors of Southern Local, would like to voice our opinions concerning our school issues which were defeated on Nov. 2.

As seniors we are just beginning to see life. We understand that in order to get the education that is so important in this world today we need good teachers, more and better equipment and up-to-date books.

We are fortunate to have teachers who have stayed with us despite the problems they have had to face. But how are we going to keep them? Do we expect them to stay when they can get higher wages in another district? Do you realize that Southern Local teachers are the lowest paid teachers in the county? All other teachers in the county receive $300 to $700 more per year.

Concerning more and better equipment, is it needed? We think so, when we can't even finish our Science experiments properly. Industrial Arts needs more in the line of mechanical equipment, such as motors and transmissions.

Physical Education needs gymnastic materials so that us young people can achieve the physical fitness that our late President Kennedy strived for. Our Home Economics department needs more space. Chairs, which are used for other classes, crowd our kitchen. Our culinary utensils such as skillets, pastry boards and mixing bowls are running low. Not one of our departments can function properly. Today in this age of discovery, how do you expect us to compete with other students?

We hope the people of Southern Local School District will take into consideration the needs of their children in the district and vote Yes for both issues on Dec. 14. Remember a better school is started by the complete backing from the entire community.

(The above letter is signed by Beverly Reight, Dianne Detchon, Eileen Pierson and Frank Briceland, members of the class of 1966.)

CATV Manager Explains Plan To Wellsville Club

William Webber, manager of CATV of Ohio Valley, Inc., was guest speaker during a meeting of the Wellsville Kiwanis Club.

In Wellsville, the initial operation will be just within the city limits. If there is enough demand, it will be expanded to outlying areas, Webber explained.

He was accompanied by Skip Cole, construction foreman for Systems Construction Co. of Dallas Tex., a subsidiary of Rego Industries. The firm is erecting the cable system.

Work Launched On Survey For Historical Sites

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A legislative study committee has started work on the first complete survey to determine existing and potential historical sites in Ohio.

The committee, holding its initial session Tuesday, heard a preliminary report and agreed to reconvene Feb. 3 after more data has been gathered.

David S. Atwater, research associate for the Legislative Study Commission, pointed out that such sites in Ohio number thousands and range from glacial scourings to the professional football hall of fame.

Atwater said the committee has been working closely with the Ohio Historical Society and has found that its operation and criteria for site preservation are closely aligned with those of the National Trust for Historic Preservation.

The committee is to recommend what, if any, legislation is needed at the 107th General Assembly convening in January, 1967.

Cecil Lee Willingham, 42, veteran of 10 years of racetrack maintenance, is the track superintendent at Baltimore's Pimlico

Suspension Set

WEIRTON — State Beer Commissioner G. T. Davis Jr. has announced a 15-day suspension of the license of the Club Sands restaurant and bar here operated by Marian Eureka. The action was taken on a charge of exhibiting gaming devices and possession of liquor on the premises.

Midland Passes Stiffest Test, Downs Rochester, 65-58

By JOHN COMO
Review Sports Writer

The Midland Leopards passed their toughest test of the season thus far as they fought off the upset-minded Rochester Rams, 65-58, at the Midland High gymnasium Tuesday night.

In gaining its fourth straight of the season without a loss, Midland held intact its 62-game home court winning streak and scored its 32nd in a row over two seasons.

—:—

ROCHESTER fell for the second time this year. The Rams have scored one victory.

For awhile it was touch-and-go for the Leopards as they battled the invaders through two periods of play for a 29-27 halftime lead.

Foul trouble plagued the host in the second period as Rochester whittled away at a 16-7 Midland first quarter lead at the free throw stripe. The Rams tallied eight points on charity tosses to go with six goals and outscore Midland 20-13 to close the gap in the second stanza.

—:—

BRENT LAKE and Sandy Martins paced the first half scoring for the Leopards with six and seven points, respectively. Chuck Pinchotti scored 10, Roland Berry 7 and Jim Snyder added 6 points to pace the ambitious Rams.

Midland had 12 personals called on it in the first half, while the Rams were cited on four occasions.

Midland made short work of the invaders by reeling off eight straight points at the start of the third period.

Steve Alston started the spree with a jump shot from the key, Rich Mahurt stole an inbounds pass and bucketed a layup and Martins and Jan Samuels hit on short jumpers to give Midland a 37-27 advantage at the five-minute mark.

THE LEOPARDS hit on 9 of 14 shots in the third frame while their defense held the Rams to two goals and two free throws for six markers.

Mahurt, who paced Midland for the third consecutive game, scored half of his 16 point total in leading the third quarter drive.

Rochester battled back valiantly in the final period although trailing by as many as 12 points with less than four minutes to play.

Snyder found the range for five goals and two free throws to finish the contest with a game high 20 points in trying to pace an upset over the Leopards. Bill Cessna added six points and Berry five, but the Rams failed to pull closer than the winning margin.

—:—

CONSISTENCY and defense proved the difference in the Midland victory. The Leopards maintained a balanced attack that had four players in double figures with Brent Lake's 13, Samuels 12 and Martins' 13 points backing Mahurt's leading total.

While these four were ripping the cords, the entire Midland defense harassed Rochester ball handlers by stealing several passes into the pivot, forcing the Rams to shoot from the outside.

—:—

BACKING Snyder for the Rams were Berry with 14 and Pinchotti with 13 markers.

Midland hit on 26 of 29 goal attempts for a 39 per cent average, while the Rams scored on 21 of 64 shots for 35 per cent.

The Leopards made 13 of 23 free throws and the Rams pointed on 16 of 25 charity tosses.

—:—

ROCHESTER captured the battle of the boards by outrebounding the Leopards, 37-34.

Snyder paced the rebounders with 13 grabs for the Rams and Mahurt pulled off eight for Midland.

The Midland reserves won their third game in four starts with a 51-44 decision over the Rochester subs.

John Tillman paced the win with 17 points. Dave Vanlier contributed 11 to the cause.

Rick Birkhiser and Randy Hubbard led Rochester with 13 and 12 points as it fell to a 1-2 mark.

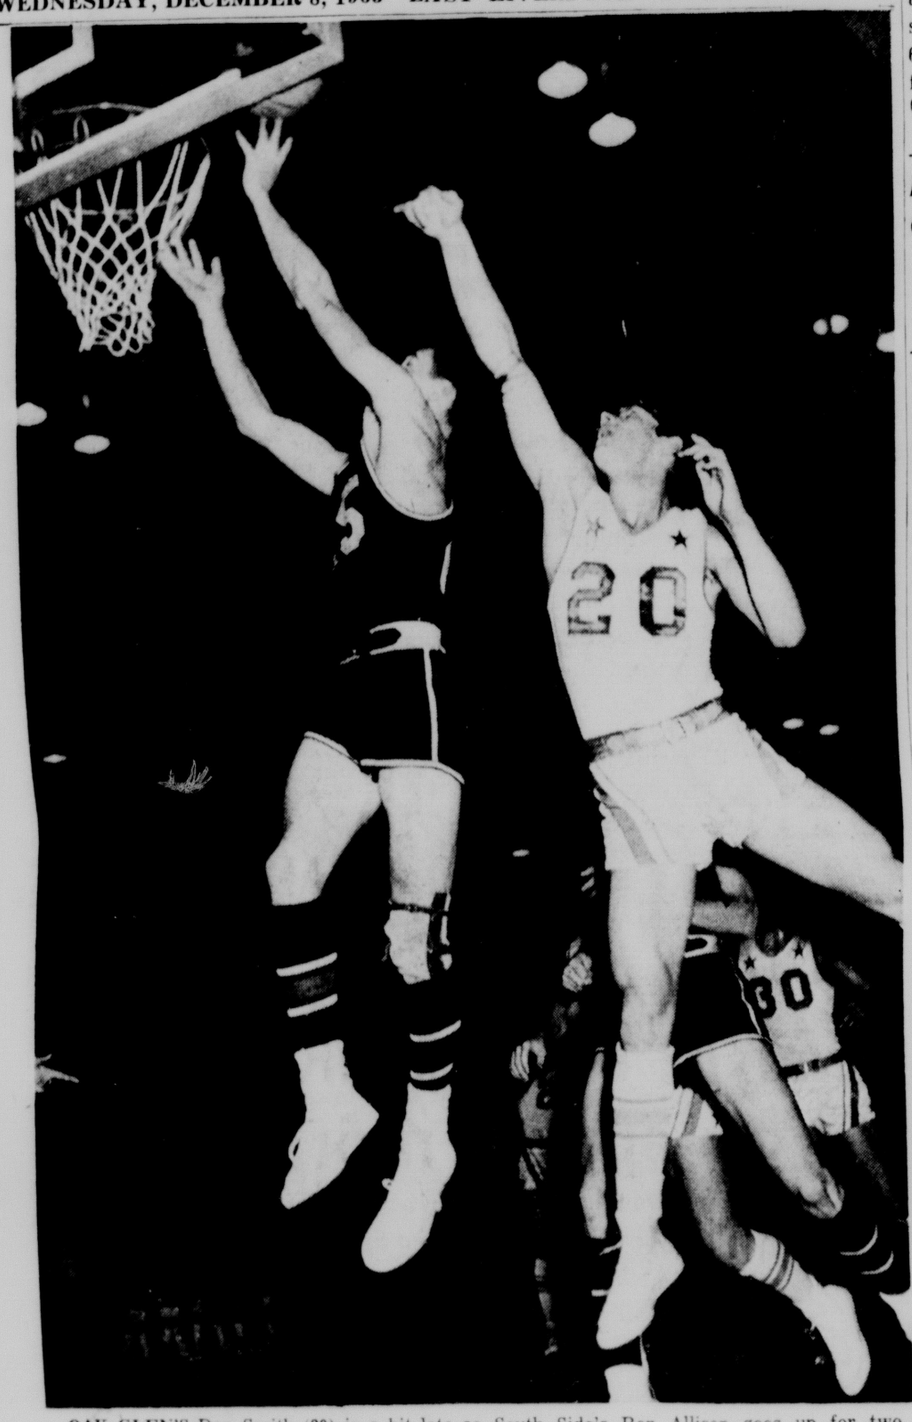
Oak Glen Opens On Bright Note, 63-52, Over S. Side

The Review Sports

WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 8, 1965 EAST LIVERPOOL REVIEW PAGE 12



OAK GLEN'S Dan Smith (20) is a bit late as South Side's Ron Allison goes up for two points during action in the first quarter Tuesday night at Oak Glen. The Golden Bears went on to defeat South Side, 63-52.

Clark, Thayer Pace Bears

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

Oak Glen resisted several bids by South Side and led all the way in getting the 1965-66 season off the ground with a 63-52 victory Tuesday night before some 1,200 fans at the Oak Glen Fieldhouse.

Dan Clark and Tom Thayer supplied the punch at the right time for Coach Bob Starkey's team as they combined for 34 points with Clark scoring 18 and Thayer 16.

AFTER posting a 15-8 first quarter lead, Thayer dropped in nine points in the second period to keep Oak Glen on top, 27-20, at halftime, then Clark took over in the third period by pouring in 14 points on steals and fast breaks.

The Golden Bears outscored South Side, 24-12, in the third period to take a comfortable 51-32 margin into the final period.

NUMEROUS mistakes, plus the hustling defense of Oak Glen turned Tuesday into a long night for South Side which scored in spurts but not often enough.

Oak Glen was not quite successful in stopping the highly-touted Ken Peden, South Side's 6-6 pivot man who showed plenty of basketball savy and led all scorers on the floor with 21 points.

Peden's teammates didn't seem to get the ball to him often enough as a pesky Oak Glen defense, led by Thayer who was assigned to Peden, played alertly.

PEDEN wound up with eight field goals and five of eight fouls while pulling down 14 rebounds. Guard Dave Ashcroft was next in line for South Side with 14 points.

Peden had set a new school record for South Side last Friday with 40 points in a victory at South Fayette.

After holding the first quarter mark, Thayer and Peden dueled in the second period with Thayer scoring nine points, including seven in a row, while Peden dropped in 10 during the same eight minutes.

—:—

SOUTH SIDE made its most serious bid as the third quarter opened. Ron Peden and Hank Person opened with baskets and cut the lead to 27-24, but the Rams never got any closer.

Eight straight points on two buckets by Clark, and one each by Thayer and Dan Forsythe made it 35-24.

Oak Glen's defensive forces took over in the third period and turned the tide for good as Clark spearheaded the drive. The Bears made 12 of 21 shots in the third stanza.

—:—

SOUTH SIDE came on to outscore Oak Glen 20-12 in the final quarter, but the rally came too late.

Oak Glen shot 45 per cent in its opener with 29 of 64 shots while South Side had 40 per cent on 20 of 49.

The Oak Glen reserves made it a clean sweep with a 48-39 victory in the preliminary battle. Mark Miller paced the young Bears with 15 while Francis Nash paced South Side on 13 points.

OAK GLEN—63

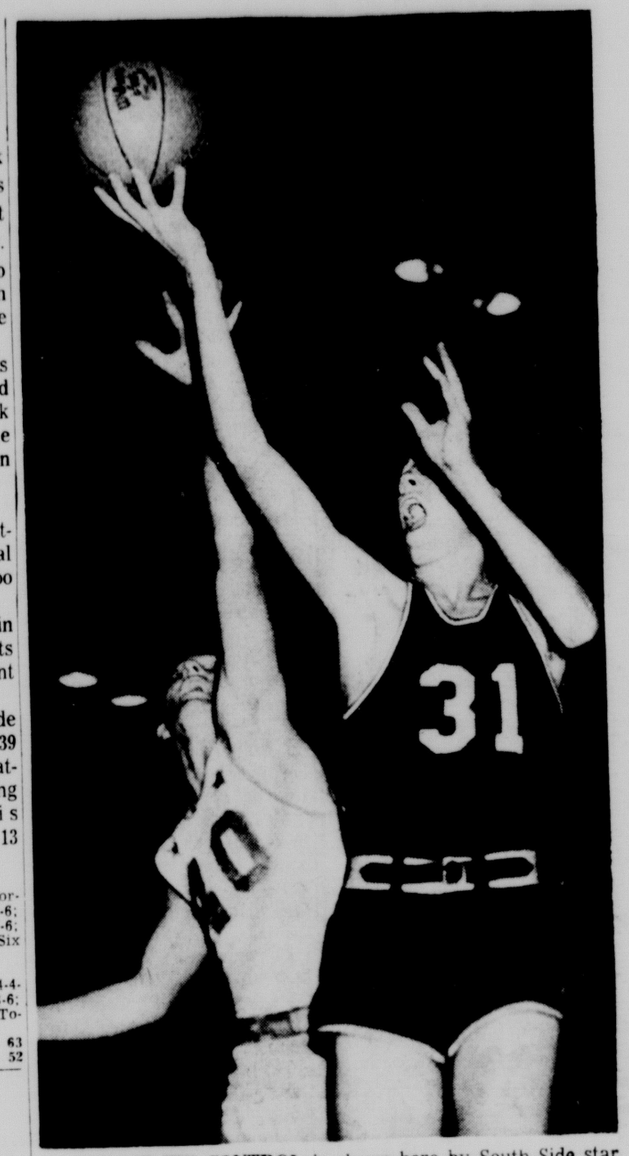
Beaver Local Field Committee Will Meet

The Beaver Local High School field improvement committee will meet Thursday at 7 p. m. at the school.



FINGER TIP CONTROL is shown here by South Side star Ken Peden (31) who grabs a rebound as Oak Glen's Tom Thayer (40) can't quite reach the ball away from the 6-6 Peden.

Western's Foe Shoots 50%

In losing its second game in three starts, Western Beaver led 18-14 at the first quarter stop and 40-36 at halftime.

Riverside, paced by Tom Slavic scored 25 points in the third period to pull in front 61-58 then widened the lead through the final eight minutes.

Slavic pumped in 26 points for Riverside while Tony Santagata added 17.

Western Beaver was paced by a one-two scoring punch of Bill Hapach who had 23 and Pat Lacey with 21.

Riverside shot 53 per cent on 34 of 64 attempts while the Golden Beavers shot 40 per cent with 29 of 71.

Midland had 12 personals called on it in the first half, while the Rams were cited on four occasions.

Midland made short work of the invaders by reeling off eight straight points at the start of the third period.

Steve Alston started the spree with a jump shot from the key, Rich Mahurt stole an inbounds pass and bucketed a layup and Martins and Jan Samuels hit on short jumpers to give Midland a 37-27 advantage at the five-minute mark.

THE LEOPARDS hit on 9 of 14 shots in the third frame while their defense held the Rams to two goals and two free throws for six markers.

Mahurt, who paced Midland for the third consecutive game, scored half of his 16 point total in leading the third quarter drive.

Rochester battled back valiantly in the final period although trailing by as many as 12 points with less than four minutes to play.

Snyder found the range for five goals and two free throws to finish the contest with a game high 20 points in trying to pace an upset over the Leopards. Bill Cessna added six points and Berry five, but the Rams failed to pull closer than the winning margin.

—:—

CONSISTENCY and defense proved the difference in the Midland victory. The Leopards maintained a balanced attack that had four players in double figures with Brent Lake's 13, Samuels 12 and Martins' 13 points backing Mahurt's leading total.

While these four were ripping the cords, the entire Midland defense harassed Rochester ball handlers by stealing several passes into the pivot, forcing the Rams to shoot from the outside.

—:—

BACKING Snyder for the Rams were Berry with 14 and Pinchotti with 13 markers.

Midland hit on 26 of 29 goal attempts for a 39 per cent average, while the Rams scored on 21 of 64 shots for 35 per cent.

The Leopards made 13 of 23 free throws and the Rams pointed on 16 of 25 charity tosses.

—:—

ROCHESTER captured the battle of the boards by outrebounding the Leopards, 37-34.

Snyder paced the rebounders with 13 grabs for the Rams and Mahurt pulled off eight for Midland.

The Midland reserves won their third game in four starts with a 51-44 decision over the Rochester subs.

John Tillman paced the win with 17 points. Dave Vanlier contributed 11 to the cause.

Rick Birkhiser and Randy Hubbard led Rochester with 13 and 12 points as it fell to a 1-2 mark.

Oak Glen Opens On Bright Note, 63-52, Over S. Side

Clark, Thayer Pace Bears

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

Oak Glen resisted several bids by South Side and led all the way in getting the 1965-66 season off the ground with a 63-52 victory Tuesday night before some 1,200 fans at the Oak Glen Fieldhouse.

Dan Clark and Tom Thayer supplied the punch at the right time for Coach Bob Starkey's team as they combined for 34 points with Clark scoring 18 and Thayer 16.

—:—

AFTER posting a 15-8 first quarter lead, Thayer dropped in nine points in the second period to keep Oak Glen on top, 27-20, at halftime, then Clark took over in the third period by pouring in 14 points on steals and fast breaks.

The Golden Bears outscored South Side, 24-12, in the third period to take a comfortable 51-32 margin into the final period.

NUMEROUS mistakes, plus the hustling defense of Oak Glen turned Tuesday into a long night for South Side which scored in spurts but not often enough.

Oak Glen was not quite successful in stopping the highly-touted Ken Peden, South Side's 6-6 pivot man who showed plenty of basketball savy and led all scorers on the floor with 21 points.

Peden's teammates didn't seem to get the ball to him often enough as a pesky Oak Glen defense, led by Thayer who was assigned to Peden, played alertly.

PEDEN wound up with eight field goals and five of eight fouls while pulling down 14 rebounds. Guard Dave Ashcroft was next in line for South Side with 14 points.

Peden had set a new school record for South Side last Friday with 40 points in a victory at South Fayette.

After holding the first quarter mark, Thayer and Peden dueled in the second period with Thayer scoring nine points, including seven in a row, while Peden dropped in 10 during the same eight minutes.

—:—

SOUTH SIDE made its most serious bid as the third quarter opened. Ron Peden and Hank Person opened with baskets and cut the lead to 27-24, but the Rams never got any closer.

Eight straight points on two buckets by Clark, and one each by Thayer and Dan Forsythe made it 35-24.

Oak Glen's defensive forces took over in the third period and turned the tide for good as Clark spearheaded the drive. The Bears made 12 of 21 shots in the third stanza.

—:—

SOUTH SIDE came on to outscore Oak Glen 20-12 in the final quarter, but the rally came too late.

Oak Glen shot 45 per cent in its opener with 29 of 64 shots while South Side had 40 per cent on 20 of 49.

The Oak Glen reserves made it a clean sweep with a 48-39 victory in the preliminary battle. Mark Miller paced the young Bears with 15 while Francis Nash paced South Side on 13 points.

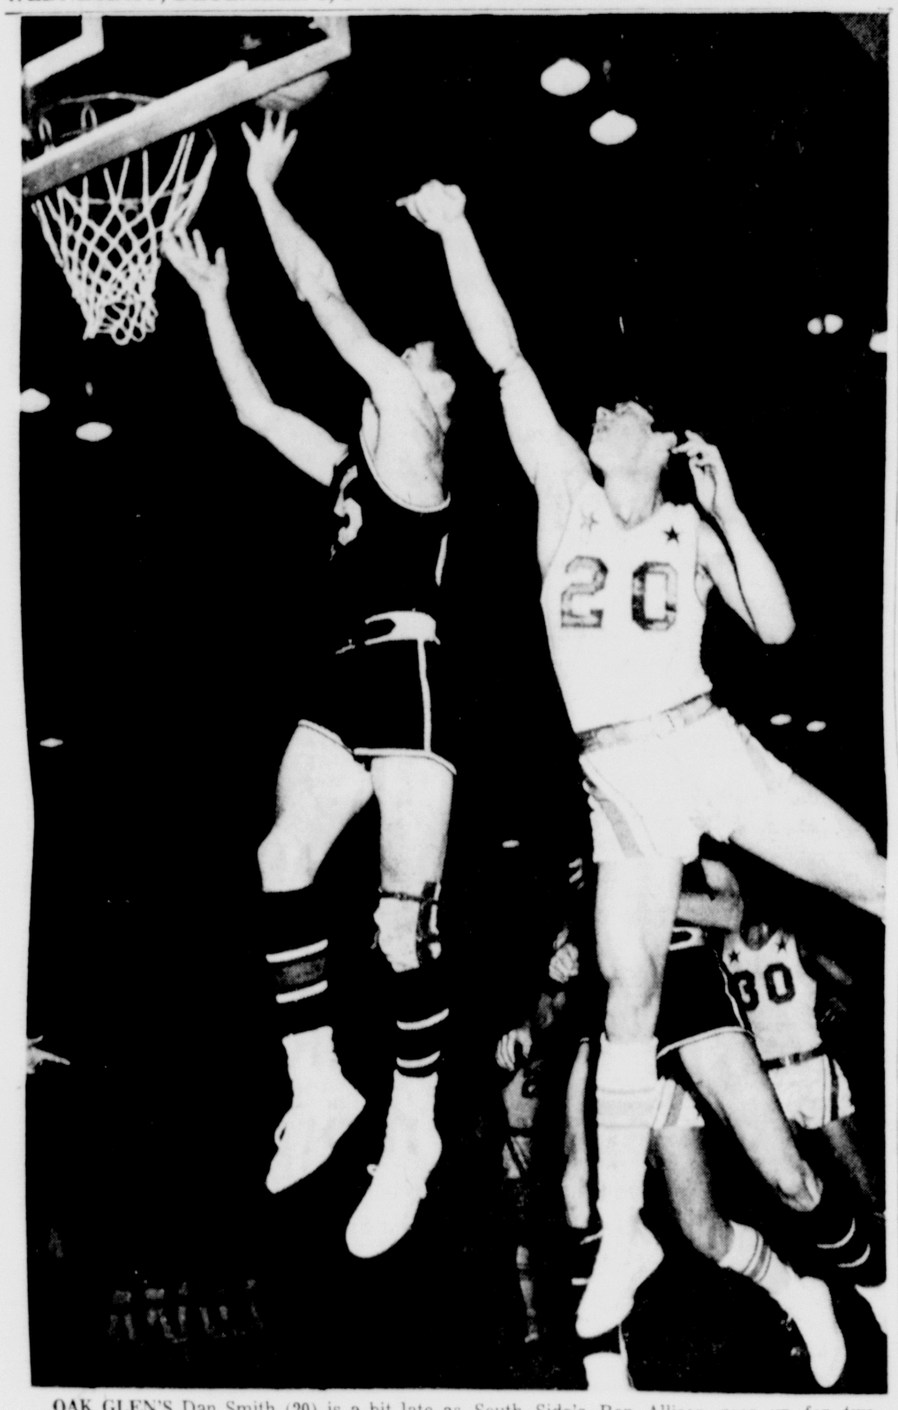
Beaver Local Field Committee Will Meet

The Beaver Local High School field improvement committee will meet Thursday at 7 p. m. at the school.



OAK GLEN'S Dan Smith (20) is a bit late as South Side's Ron Allison goes up for two points during action in the first quarter Tuesday night at Oak Glen. The Golden Bears went on to defeat South Side, 63-52.

Beavers Fall To Riverside, 81-71

Western's Foe Shoots 50%

Visiting Riverside, hitting on over 50 per cent from the field, came on strong in the second half to post an 81-71 victory over Western Beaver Tuesday night.

In losing its second game in three starts, Western Beaver led 18-14 at the first quarter stop and 40-36 at halftime.

Riverside, paced by Tom Slavic scored 25 points in the third period to pull in front 61-58 then widened the lead through the final eight minutes.

Slavic pumped in 26 points for Riverside while Tony Santagata added 17.

Western Beaver was paced by a one-two scoring punch of Bill Hapach who had 23 and Pat Lacey with 21.

Riverside shot 53 per cent on 34 of 64 attempts while the Golden Beavers shot 40 per cent with 29 of 71.

The Riverside reserves won the preliminary contest.

UCLA, Michigan 1-2 In Cage Poll

By The Associated Press

UCLA's first-place berth in this week's Associated Press poll is something less than startling. The same can't be said for South Carolina's No. 10 spot.

"It feels great," said Frank McGuire, the Gamecocks' coach. "We're two years ahead of schedule."

The 10th - place berth was South Carolina's first appearance on the list of college basketball's elite and marked McGuire's return to prominence. In 14 years at St. John's, N.Y., and North Carolina, his teams were rarely out of the Top Ten.

There were few other surprises in the first weekly poll.

UCLA, as expected, dominated the voting with 35 of the 42 first-place ballots cast by a panel of sports writers and broadcasters across the country. The Bruins totaled 399 points to 341 for Michigan. The Wolverines had six first-place votes.

St. Joseph's of Philadelphia, rated one of the strongest teams in the East, got the other first-place vote and had 262 points for third place.

UCLA lived up to its preseason notices with wide-margin victories over Big Ten foes Ohio State and Illinois last week. Michigan whipped Tennessee, Bowling Green and Ball State in its first three outings.

The balloting for the Top Ten, which covered games through Monday night, credited 10 points for a first-place vote, nine for second, etc.

1. UCLA	2	0	399
2. Michigan	3	0	341
3. St. Joseph's, Pa.	2	0	262
4. Vanderbilt	1	0	209
5. Minnesota	2	0	182
6. Duke	2	1	171
7. Kansas	2	0	156
8. Providence	1	0	142

Chuvalo Looking At British Title

LONDON (AP) — Canadian heavyweight George Chuvalo, who failed in his bid to win the World Boxing Association heavyweight crown from Ernie Terrell last month, is after Henry Cooper's British Empire title.

Chuvalo outpointed Joe Bygraves, former British Empire champion from Jamaica, in a 10-rounder Tuesday night. The Canadian weighed 207, Bygraves 209½.

Irving Ungerman, Chuvalo's manager, said the Canadian champ would stay in England for awhile.

"Frankly," said Ungerman, "we hope Chuvalo's next fight will be in London — preferably for Cooper's Empire title."

Massillon, Canton Drop From Big 8

Canton McKinley's Bulldogs and Massillon's Tigers are pulling out of northeastern Ohio's Big Eight High School Basketball Conference.

The announcement of Massillon's departure came Monday during the Big Eight's winter business meeting at Salem.

Massillon will leave the conference after playing this and next season's card because, it says, it has too far to go for away games.

Canton McKinley announced its decision to quit the Big Eight last spring and will be out of the conference when the current season ends.

Replacements for the two teams will be announced at the end of the 1965-66 season, a conference spokesman said.

Other Big Eight teams are the East Liverpool, Salem, Niles, Warren, Steubenville and Alliance.

The Conference announced the previews next year would be held at Massillon Nov. 19 and Niles Nov. 26.

Motorcycles And Midgets To Race At Steubenville

STEUBENVILLE — An indoor racing doubleheader will be run here at the Community Arena on Sunday afternoon.

Top motorcycle riders of the American Motorcycle Assn. will run on the new track for the first time in addition to the auto races.

Gary Nixon of Baltimore, the national champion of indoor motorcycle racing, heads the field of "bike" riders.

With Nixon will be Ronnie Rall of Mansfield, O., who has been one of the leading AMA riders nationally for the last few years and about two dozen other top riders from the Eastern States.

Jerry Matus, who won the first 35-lap feature auto race here two weeks ago, will be back trying to repeat in the midget racer ranks.

The Wampum driver has been one of the big surprises in Tri-State auto racing — both indoors and out — so far this season.

Jerry stole the show from the out-of-state favorites here, not only winning the main event but making a clean sweep — as he also took his heat and semi-final races.

BOB HAMILTON
Leads Midget Drivers.

Time trials will begin at 1 p.m. for both motorcycles and autos and the 12 races will start at 2:30 p.m.

The Arena is just off Route 22 west of Steubenville.

Snavely, Trippe Inducted To Football Hall Of Fame

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — An old Yale man's charge that college football was being taken away from the rank-and-file students raised some hackles today as an aftermath of the annual Hall of Fame dinner.

One of the strongest dissents came from Carl Snavely, former president of the American Football Coaches Association whose career spanned 26 years and four universities.

"From my present viewpoint — a car wash in St. Louis which gives me some headaches — I find the game very wholesome," the silver-haired Snavely said. "The colleges have eliminated many evils which were prevalent in my time."

Snavely was one of the eight new inductees to football's Hall of Fame who sat on the dais at the National Football Foundation dinner Tuesday night and heard the 1965 Gold Medal winner, Juan T. Trippe, head of Pan American World Airways, decry the trend toward making college football a spectator sport.

Trippe said he had heard rumors that a rank-and-file student, as contrasted with an athlete hand-picked and on a scholarship, was viewed with astonishment and amusement when he came out for the varsity team.

"Didn't he know there was nothing to come out for?" Trippe asked. "That the football team was already chosen? That it had been chosen for months? For a year maybe.

"Hadn't anybody explained to him volunteers weren't expected? That the place for eager students was in the stands?"

Trippe, a Yale red-shirter in 1917, Navy bomber pilot and later a varsity guard, was presented the foundation's Gold Medal for outstanding achievement. The award previously has gone to such dignitaries as Presidents Dwight Eisenhower and John F. Kennedy and Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

Trippe said the game today differed from the old days when "We loved football because it was exciting to be in — we liked the sense of combat."

Snavely, who coached at Bucknell, North Carolina, Cornell and Washington University at St. Louis between 1927 and 1958, said at none of the schools at which he served was the door shut to the rank-and-file student.

Midland Board Votes To Remain In Class A Ranks

The board acted on the recommendation of the athletic council to reinstate Midland into Class A football competition.

At last month's meeting the board ratified Midland participation in Class B football, but since the rest of the teams on the schedule stayed in Class A, the athletic council asked that Midland join them to keep the schedule intact.

The Saturday morning winter basketball program was approved and scheduled for 10 to 15 weeks participation. Appointed as coach for the weekly four-hour session was James Perkins.

The resignation of R. Allen Colledge, high school mathematics teacher and assistant football coach, was accepted by the board.

UCLA, Michigan 1-2 In Cage Poll

By The Associated Press

UCLA's first-place berth in this week's Associated Press poll is something less than startling. The same can't be said for South Carolina's No. 10 spot.

"It feels great," said Frank McGuire, the Gamecocks' coach. "We're two years ahead of schedule."

The 10th - place berth was South Carolina's first appearance on the list of college basketball's elite and marked McGuire's return to prominence. In 14 years at St. John's, N.Y., and North Carolina, his teams were rarely out of the Top Ten.

There were few other surprises in the first weekly poll.

UCLA, as expected, dominated the voting with 35 of the 42 first-place ballots cast by a panel of sports writers and broadcasters across the country. The Bruins totaled 399 points to 341 for Michigan. The Wolverines had six first-place votes.

St. Joseph's of Philadelphia, rated one of the strongest teams in the East, got the other first-place vote and had 262 points for third place.

UCLA lived up to its preseason notices with wide-margin victories over Big Ten foes Ohio State and Illinois last week. Michigan whipped Tennessee, Bowling Green and Ball State in its first three outings.

The balloting for the Top Ten, which covered games through Monday night, credited 10 points for a first-place vote, nine for second, etc.

1. UCLA	2	0	399
2. Michigan	3	0	341
3. St. Joseph's, Pa.	2	0	262
4. Vanderbilt	1	0	209
5. Minnesota	2	0	182
6. Duke	2	1	171
7. Kansas	2	0	156
8. Providence	1	0	142
9. Bradley	3	0	79
10. South Carolina	3	0	63

Chuvalo Looking At British Title

LONDON (AP) — Canadian heavyweight George Chuvalo, who failed in his bid to win the World Boxing Association heavyweight crown from Ernie Terrell last month, is after Henry Cooper's British Empire title.

Chuvalo outpointed Joe Bygraves, former British Empire champion from Jamaica, in a 10-rounder Tuesday night. The Canadian weighed 207, Bygraves 209½.

Irving Ungerman, Chuvalo's manager, said the Canadian champ would stay in England for awhile.

"Frankly," said Ungerman, "we hope Chuvalo's next fight will be in London — preferably for Cooper's Empire title."

Massillon, Canton Drop From Big 8

Canton McKinley's Bulldogs and Massillon's Tigers are pulling out of northeastern Ohio's Big Eight High School Basketball Conference.

The announcement of Massillon's departure came Monday during the Big Eight's winter business meeting at Salem.

Massillon will leave the conference after playing this and next season's card because, it says, it has too far to go for away games.

Canton McKinley announced its decision to quit the Big Eight last spring and will be out of the conference when the current season ends.

Replacements for the two teams will be announced at the end of the 1965-66 season, a conference spokesman said.

Other Big Eight teams are the East Liverpool, Salem, Niles, Warren, Steubenville and Alliance.

The Conference announced the previews next year would be held at Massillon Nov. 19 and Niles Nov. 26.

Ceremonies Held As Su Mac Lad Calls It Quits

WESTBURY, N.Y. (AP) — Su Mac Lad, greatest money-winning harness horse of all time, retired from racing in special ceremonies at the winners' circle Tuesday night at Roosevelt Raceway, scene of some of his greatest triumphs.

The 11-year-old trotting gelding was driven once around the track to the cheers of 14,017 fans and then striped of his racing gear.

His shoes were removed and distributed to his owner, Irving Berkemeyer of New Milford, N.J.; Alvin Weil, president of Roosevelt Raceway; Ed Binneweg, representing the Trotting Hall of Fame at Goshen, N.Y., and to his driver-trainer, Stanley Dancer of New Egype, N.J.

Su Mac Lad, purchased by Berkemeyer for $35,000 in 1959, retired with total earnings of $884,368.

Motorcycles And Midgets To Race At Steubenville

STEUBENVILLE — An indoor racing doubleheader will be run here at the Community Arena on Sunday afternoon.

Top motorcycle riders of the American Motorcycle Assn. will run on the new track for the first time in addition to the auto races.

Gary Nixon of Baltimore, the national champion of indoor motorcycle racing, heads the field of "bike" riders.

With Nixon will be Ronnie Rall of Mansfield, O., who has been one of the leading AMA riders nationally for the last few years and about two dozen other top riders from the Eastern States.

Jerry Matus, who won the first 35-lap feature auto race here two weeks ago, will be back trying to repeat in the midget racer ranks.

The Wampum driver has been one of the big surprises in Tri-State auto racing — both indoors and out — so far this season.

Jerry stole the show from the out-of-state favorites here, not only winning the main event but making a clean sweep — as he also took his heat and semi-final races.

BOB HAMILTON
Leads Midget Drivers.

Time trials will begin at 1 p.m. for both motorcycles and autos and the 12 races will start at 2:30 p.m.

The Arena is just off Route 22 west of Steubenville.

Snavely, Trippe Inducted To Football Hall Of Fame

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — An old Yale man's charge that college football was being taken away from the rank-and-file students raised some hackles today as an aftermath of the annual Hall of Fame dinner.

One of the strongest dissents came from Carl Snavely, former president of the American Football Coaches Association whose career spanned 26 years and four universities.

"From my present viewpoint — a car wash in St. Louis which gives me some headaches — I find the game very wholesome," the silver-haired Snavely said. "The colleges have eliminated many evils which were prevalent in my time."

Snavely was one of the eight new inductees to football's Hall of Fame who sat on the dais at the National Football Foundation dinner Tuesday night and heard the 1965 Gold Medal winner, Juan T. Trippe, head of Pan American World Airways, decry the trend toward making college football a spectator sport.

Trippe said he had heard rumors that a rank-and-file student, as contrasted with an athlete hand-picked and on a scholarship, was viewed with astonishment and amusement when he came out for the varsity team.

"Didn't he know there was nothing to come out for?" Trippe asked. "That the football team was already chosen? That it had been chosen for months? For a year maybe.

"Hadn't anybody explained to him volunteers weren't expected? That the place for eager students was in the stands?"

Trippe, a Yale red-shirter in 1917, Navy bomber pilot and later a varsity guard, was presented the foundation's Gold Medal for outstanding achievement. The award previously has gone to such dignitaries as Presidents Dwight Eisenhower and John F. Kennedy and Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

Trippe said the game today differed from the old days when "We loved football because it was exciting to be in — we liked the sense of combat."

Snavely, who coached at Bucknell, North Carolina, Cornell and Washington University at St. Louis between 1927 and 1958, said at none of the schools at which he served was the door shut to the rank-and-file student.

Midland Board Votes To Remain In Class A Ranks

The board acted on the recommendation of the athletic council to reinstate Midland into Class A football competition.

At last month's meeting the board ratified Midland participation in Class B football, but since the rest of the teams on the schedule stayed in Class A, the athletic council asked that Midland join them to keep the schedule intact.

The Saturday morning winter basketball program was approved and scheduled for 10 to 15 weeks participation. Appointed as coach for the weekly four-hour session was James Perkins.

The resignation of R. Allen Colledge, high school mathematics teacher and assistant football coach, was accepted by the board.

Red Auerbach Loses Another Bout With Ref

NEW YORK (AP)—Dick McGuire is one up on a couple of old teammates and Red Auerbach is one down to another referee. But Auerbach's Boston Celtics still are 8½ up on McGuire's New York Knickerbockers.

The Knicks edged Los Angeles 131-127 Tuesday night for McGuire's second coaching victory in three starts after the Celtics beat St. Louis 112-96 but lost Auerbach in the opener of a stormy National Basketball Association doubleheader.

McGuire has beaten two former Knick teammates — St. Louis player - coach Richie Guerin and Los Angeles pilot Fred Schaus — since taking over the New York reins nine days ago. Auerbach, meanwhile, has been tossed out of a game for the second time this season.

The Celtics, however, remain on top in the Eastern Division race, 16 percentage points in front of second-place Cincinnati and 8½ games ahead of the last-place Knicks.

They overpowered the Hawks despite the absence of big Bill Russell, scoring ace Sam Jones...and Auerbach, who was ejected from the game in the third period after drawing his second technical foul of the evening in a tragi-comic rhubarb with official Norm Drucker.

The argument started over a team technical foul called against the Celtics for making an illegal substitution. Mike Farmer, who handles the St. Louis bench while Guerin is playing, pointed out the infraction to the officials and when Auerbach demanded equal time for rebuttal, Drucker ignored...and then banished him.

SAN JUAN (AP) — Willie de Jesus was touched for 13 hits, but left 12 men on base in pitching Santurce to a 7-2 victory over Magaguez in the Puerto Rican winter baseball league Tuesday night.

Red Auerbach Loses Another Bout With Ref

NEW YORK (AP)—Dick McGuire is one up on a couple of old teammates and Red Auerbach is one down to another referee. But Auerbach's Boston Celtics still are 8½ up on McGuire's New York Knickerbockers.

The Knicks edged Los Angeles 131-127 Tuesday night for McGuire's second coaching victory in three starts after the Celtics beat St. Louis 112-96 but lost Auerbach in the opener of a stormy National Basketball Association doubleheader.

McGuire has beaten two former Knick teammates — St. Louis player - coach Richie Guerin and Los Angeles pilot Fred Schaus — since taking over the New York reins nine days ago. Auerbach, meanwhile, has been tossed out of a game for the second time this season.

The Celtics, however, remain on top in the Eastern Division race, 16 percentage points in front of second-place Cincinnati and 8½ games ahead of the last-place Knicks.

They overpowered the Hawks despite the absence of big Bill Russell, scoring ace Sam Jones...and Auerbach, who was ejected from the game in the third period after drawing his second technical foul of the evening in a tragi-comic rhubarb with official Norm Drucker.

The argument started over a team technical foul called against the Celtics for making an illegal substitution. Mike Farmer, who handles the St. Louis bench while Guerin is playing, pointed out the infraction to the officials and when Auerbach demanded equal time for rebuttal, Drucker ignored...and then banished him.

Crow Named As Offensive Star Of Week

NEW YORK (AP) — John David Crow, the Heisman Trophy winner in 1957, is coming back strong as a power runner and pass catcher with the San Francisco 49ers.

Crow's running in the second half of Sunday's Detroit game has earned him recognition by The Associated Press as the Offensive Player of the Week in the National Football League.

The 49ers' offense calls for many passes to the running backs and Crow fits into the picture. Paired with rookie Ken Willard at the two running back positions, Crow already has topped his 1964 yardage in total offense. The former Texas A&M star has gained 447 yards running and 430 receiving for 877 yards.

The Lions held Crow to 15 yards on five carries in the first half but he came back strong with 64 yards on nine carries in the second half as the 49ers rallied from a 14-3 deficit to a 17-14 victory. It was Crow slamming for 15 big yards on two carries who kept alive the winning touchdown drive. He gained 79 yards on 14 carries for the day.

Anderson-Twilley Team Headed For Senior Bowl

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — Tulsa's record-breaking passing battery heads up the offensive-minded North team announced today for the 17th annual Senior Bowl football game Jan. 8.

The battery is Bill Anderson throwing and Howard Twilley catching. Both set all-time NCAA marks during the regular season.

The 27-member North squad includes seven players picked in the first round of the professional football drafts, plus 11 others chosen in the first five rounds. Every man on the squad was drafted by the pro clubs.

The South squad, announced last Sunday, included six first-round choices and a total of 19 in the first five rounds.

The seven North players picked as No. 1 by the pros are: Missouri's 6-2, 207-pound halfback Johnny Roland, by the New York Jets; West Virginia's 6-2, 235-pound fullback Dick Leftridge, Pittsburgh Steelers; San Diego State's 6-1, 190-pound end Wry Garrison, San Diego Chargers; Massachusetts' 6-4, 250-pound end Milt Morin, Cleveland Browns.

Indiana's 6-5, 242-pound Randy Beisley, an interior lineman, Philadelphia Eagles; Missouri's 6-5, 245-pound Francis Peay, interior lineman, New York Giants; and Purdue's 6-3, 240-pound Karl Singer, interior lineman, Boston Patriots.

The South squad of 27 players includes 17 from the Southeastern Conference and other top players from the Southwest and Atlantic Coast conferences.

South quarterbacks are Alabama's Steve Sloan and Texas A.&I's Randy Johnson, who has signed with the new Atlanta Falcons of the NFL.

Weeb Ewbank of the New York Jets will coach the South team and Mike Holovak of the Boston Patriots will direct the North.

Gov. Scranton Signs Glass Door Measure

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton, who suffered a bloody nose several months ago when he walked into a transparent glass door, signed into law Tuesday a bill requiring that such doors in public places be painted or marked at eye level.

The bill was introduced shortly after Scranton had his encounter with the door. It is designed to prevent similar accidents.

Ohio Maintains Eighth Place On Military Pacts

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio maintained its eighth-place ranking among the states in prime military contracts awarded during fiscal 1965, but dropped to an 11-year low of $863 million, Ohio State University's Bureau of Business Research reported today.

The bureau's current bulletin has a report, based on one from the U. S. Department of Defense saying that while the 50-state total declined 4.7 per cent, contracts awarded to Ohio firms fell 16.1 per cent.

"Not since 1954, when post-Korean cancellations cut Ohio's net total to $388 million, have Ohio firms received a smaller amount of military procurement contracts," the bulletin said. "Ohio's share of the U.S. total amounted to 3.7 per cent in 1965 compared with 4.2 per cent in 1964."

California, New York, Texas, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Missouri and Pennsylvania ranked ahead of Ohio, in that order.

Anderson-Twilley Team Headed For Senior Bowl

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — Tulsa's record-breaking passing battery heads up the offensive-minded North team announced today for the 17th annual Senior Bowl football game Jan. 8.

The battery is Bill Anderson throwing and Howard Twilley catching. Both set all-time NCAA marks during the regular season.

The 27-member North squad includes seven players picked in the first round of the professional football drafts, plus 11 others chosen in the first five rounds. Every man on the squad was drafted by the pro clubs.

The South squad, announced last Sunday, included six first-round choices and a total of 19 in the first five rounds.

The seven North players picked as No. 1 by the pros are: Missouri's 6-2, 207-pound halfback Johnny Roland, by the New York Jets; West Virginia's 6-2, 235-pound fullback Dick Leftridge, Pittsburgh Steelers; San Diego State's 6-1, 190-pound end Wry Garrison, San Diego Chargers; Massachusetts' 6-4, 250-pound end Milt Morin, Cleveland Browns.

Indiana's 6-5, 242-pound Randy Beisley, an interior lineman, Philadelphia Eagles; Missouri's 6-5, 245-pound Francis Peay, interior lineman, New York Giants; and Purdue's 6-3, 240-pound Karl Singer, interior lineman, Boston Patriots.

The South squad of 27 players includes 17 from the Southeastern Conference and other top players from the Southwest and Atlantic Coast conferences.

South quarterbacks are Alabama's Steve Sloan and Texas A.&I's Randy Johnson, who has signed with the new Atlanta Falcons of the NFL.

Weeb Ewbank of the New York Jets will coach the South team and Mike Holovak of the Boston Patriots will direct the North.

Gov. Scranton Signs Glass Door Measure

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton, who suffered a bloody nose several months ago when he walked into a transparent glass door, signed into law Tuesday a bill requiring that such doors in public places be painted or marked at eye level.

The bill was introduced shortly after Scranton had his encounter with the door. It is designed to prevent similar accidents.

Ohio Maintains Eighth Place On Military Pacts

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio maintained its eighth-place ranking among the states in prime military contracts awarded during fiscal 1965, but dropped to an 11-year low of $863 million, Ohio State University's Bureau of Business Research reported today.

The bureau's current bulletin has a report, based on one from the U. S. Department of Defense saying that while the 50-state total declined 4.7 per cent, contracts awarded to Ohio firms fell 16.1 per cent.

"Not since 1954, when post-Korean cancellations cut Ohio's net total to $388 million, have Ohio firms received a smaller amount of military procurement contracts," the bulletin said. "Ohio's share of the U.S. total amounted to 3.7 per cent in 1965 compared with 4.2 per cent in 1964."

California, New York, Texas, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Missouri and Pennsylvania ranked ahead of Ohio, in that order.

Slice drained canned water chestnuts make a delightful contribution to buttered green peas or snap beans. The water chestnuts may also be added when the vegetables are served cream-style.

New Air Service Set By Detroit Airlines

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Beginning Dec. 15, TAG Airlines of Detroit will start passenger service between Allegheny County Airport and Cleveland, Ohio.

The county commissioners authorized operation Tuesday of the first commercial airline to operate regularly scheduled flights from the airport in 13 years.

In his 13 years as head football coach at Auburn, Ralph Jordan has won 97 games, lost 39 and tied four. In 1957, he won the national championship.

Radar Technique For Airports

FAA Moves To Prevent Midair Crash Of Planes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Aviation Agency is moving to equip the nation's major airports with a three-dimension radar technique designed to prevent accidents such as Saturday's collision of airliners over New York's Westchester County.

An FAA official said the technique has been satisfactorily developed during the past five years in a program to establish a national air space system.

But he said the highly sophisticated, computerized system — costing in the millions of dollars — won't be introduced into the busy New York area for about two years.

The plane locater system is designed for high-altitude traffic control through the use of what the FAA calls stored alpha-numerics.

Under the technique, the radar blips of an approaching airliner are electronically tagged with luminous letters and numerals called alpha-numerics. This tag instantly tells air control tower personnel the plane's identification, altitude and location in distance and direction.

A device called a transponder automatically flashes the information from the airliner to the tower radar screen. This eliminates considerable voice communication, including perhaps faulty altitude readings, between the pilot and the tower.

FAA and Civil Aeronautics Board officials declined to speculate whether the alpha-numerics technique would have prevented Saturday's collision of an Eastern Airlines Constellation and a Trans World Airline jet.

Officials are still investigating the accident, they said.

The prop-driven Constellation crashed near North Salem, N.Y., after clipping the wing of the TWA jet. Amazingly, only four of the 58 persons aboard were killed. The jet made it safely to New York's Kennedy International Airport.

"Until we get a finding on the cause, it's too early to say the alpha-numerics system would have prevented the accident," said David D. Thomas, associate administrator of programs for the FAA. "But generally speaking this is the type accident the system is designed to avoid."

Prototype alpha-numeries systems have been successfully tested in recent months at Indianapolis and Atlanta airports at a cost of $5 million each.

In perhaps five years in FAA hopes to have the system in all 22 major terminals and many of the 50 medium en route terminals, Thomas said.

Total cost will be about $250 million.

Hamilton Attorney To Run For Congress

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — Donald L. Ferris' hat is in the ring for the Democratic nomination as U. S. Representative from the new 24th Congressional District.

Ferric, a 41-year-old attorney and member of Hamilton's City Planning Commission, announced his candidacy Tuesday. The district consists of Butler, Preble and Warren counties and seven townships in Montgomery County.

Official Denies Extensive Sale Of Drug At OSU

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—"I know it's a red hot rumor, but we've had no evidence of any widespread traffic in LSD," commented the State Board of Pharmacy's executive secretary.

Dr. Rupert Salisbury replied Tuesday when asked about reports that there has been extensive sale of the hallucination-producing drug around the Ohio State University campus.

Columbus vice squadmen said they had identified seven persons in connection with LSD (lysergic diethylamide) traffic, the Columbus Dispatch reported.

No arrests have been made, they said, because the drug is not classed as a narcotic. As of February, however, federal law will prescribe maximum penalties of $10,000 and 15 years' imprisonment for possession or illegal sale of LSD-type drugs.

Physicians describe LSD as a "powerful nerve stimulant," obtainable legally by prescription only, and consider it dangerous. Psychiatrists say repeated use can lead to emotional instability, insanity, even suicidal depression.

It is not considered addictive

Ohio State University police said they were aware of unauthorized LSD use but that it hasn't appeared widespread.

Junior ROTC System Sought At High School

East Liverpool High School may be one of the first area schools to have a high school Reserve Officers Training Corps program if present plans of the Board of Education materialize.

If an application now on file and "favorably considered" is approved, the junior ROTC program patterned after the program which has been in effect in colleges for many years could begin with the start of the new term in September.

—:

NO FORMAL action has been taken, but board members have unanimously endorsed the military training program if it can be obtained, Samuel W. Brown, a board member and lieutenant colonel in the Army Reserve, said. Brown has been instrumental in securing information.

The board now is awaiting a conference with an officer from the Second Army headquarters who will explain the program in detail and the space requirements in particular.

The building section of the State Department of Education has agreed to allow extra space in the new high school but needs to know how much is required so that it can be included in the plans now being drawn, Brown explained.

A study is expected to be released in January which will detail requirements. The program possibly could begin next September in the old high school.

The only requirement so far is that a minimum of 100 boys are enrolled. Brown said he does not believe that would be a problem.

The Army would furnish all the necessary equipment and instructors, including a non-commissioned officer to conduct drills and an instructor, probably an officer who is retired or nearing retirement, to teach military science.

Brown said at least 90 per cent, and possibly all, of the salary would be paid by the Army.

Four or five "pilot" courses have been established in some high schools throughout the country, he said.

—:—

BROWN SAID he first became interested when he learned that a bill passed in 1964 approved a revised ROTC program for high schools that can qualify.

He wrote Rep. Wayne L. Hays, 18th District congressman, who contacted Gen. Eugene Wright, chief of the Reserve components in the Department of Defense.

The Army officer contacted Second Army headquarters, which informed Brown an application has been filed and is "favorably considered."

Brown said board members feel the preliminary training would be valuable for youths, many of whom will enter the service after graduation. It also will help with the physical fitness program.

Firecracker Injures Youth

A 7-year-old city boy was in "fair" condition at City Hospital today with injuries suffered when a firecracker exploded in his hand Tuesday night. Six others were hurt in separate mishaps.

Ronald Kittle, son of Mrs. Bertha Kittle of 927 Fairview St., lit a "cherry bomb" which detonated in his hand, causing cuts and burns of the left hand, cuts of the face, multiple lacerations of the right hand and bruises of the abdomen.

Neighbors said the boy apparently found the firecracker about the home and, being curious, lit the fuse.

Brian Griffin, son of Loren Griffin of Hammondsville, was treated last night for a scalp cut received when he ran into a fire escape of a nursing home.

Jimmie Carroll of 1137 Ohio Ave., an employe of an East End service station, suffered burns of the right hand while trying to start a car while at work.

Brenda Lee Morrison, daughter of Raymond Morrison of 1856 Harvey Ave., was treated for bruises of the back of the head after she fell from a parked auto.

Mrs. Mabel Lorenz of 150 Pennsylvania Ave., Chester, suffered abrasions of the knees in a fall down post office steps.

While at work, John Moore of 6th Ave., LaCroft, received a laceration of the left wrist on a chisel.

Debra Ann Clark, 7, of State St. suffered a cut left ear when she fell against a bed while running at home.

Hancock Seal Drive Nets $2,522 To Date

A total of $2,522 was collected during the first three weeks of the Christmas Seal campaign being conducted by the Hancock County Tuberculosis League.

Those who have not already contributed are urged to make donations to their local chairmen: Mrs. F. N. Richmond of Chester, Mrs. Robert S. Carnahan of Newell, Mrs. Paul Wern of Pughtown, Mrs. Earle Bell of New Cumberland and Mrs. Lowell Austin of Weirton.

Officers Are Selected In South Side District

The South Side School District elected officers for the jointure and individual districts at a meeting at the high school Monday.

Officers heading the jointure are David L. McKenzie, president; William V. Faulk, vice president; Catherine M. Anderson, secretary, and Dorothy Hayward, assistant sceretary.

Greene Township, Clifford M. Lyon, president; James A. Ashcroft, vice president, and Chester F. Elliott, secretary.

Dorothea Brooks is president of the Hookstown district, with Wilda Potts vice president and Margaret Potts, secretary.

Shippingport district officers are Hazel Walker, president; Donna McCandless, vice president, and Dorothy Hayward, secretary.

Since no representatives were present, officers for the Frankfort Springs district were not announced Monday night.

During the regular monthly meeting following the organizational meeting, the board approved the request of the Southern Local Group of PSEA as bargaining agent for matters concerning professional workers of the jointure.

A community college in Beaver County was discussed, with the matter referred to individual districts for study.

Mrs. Jean Walter, girls' health and physical education teacher, was authorized to attend the state convention of the Pennsylvania State Association of Health and Physical Education at Hershey Dec. 9-10-11.

The board established admission prices of $1 for adults and 50 cents for students at basketball and wrestling contests.

Major Goals Achieved By Ecumenical Council

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican Ecumenical Council accomplished these major goals from its opening on Oct. 11, 1962, to the completion of its work Tuesday:

— Changed the traditionally monarchistic concept of the Roman Catholic Church's government to a more democratic form by declaring that bishops share with the Pope in governing the Church. It voted for the establishment of a synod of bishops from around the world to put the historic new concept into action. Pope Paul VI promised the first synod would meet by the end of 1967. The council also recommended modernization of the conservative Vatican Curia, the central Church administration, and Pope Paul ordered it done.

— Permitted the replacement of Latin in the Mass and most other sacraments with local languages to make church services more meaningful to the average worshiper.

— Agreed that the ways of life and dress of nuns, monks and friars must change from medieval custom to become consonant with modern times.

— Voted for a program of common worship and other efforts to bring Roman Catholics and other Christians together. This included joint studies toward a common Bible.

— Declared that all Jews could not be blamed for the crucifixion of Christ and called on the world's half-billion Roman Catholics to work for better relations with Jews and other non-Christians. It was the first time in its history that the Church voiced such a plea.

— Declared that all men have religious freedom, to act in accordance with their consciences, another move designed to bring Catholics and non-Catholics closer together.

— Outlined guidelines for Catholics on such problems as nuclear war, social justice, love and marriage. It upheld Church teaching against contraception but left the door open to changes in the future.

Varied Matters Occupy Councilmen At Chester

The removal of temporary signs, installation of additional street lighting and correction of sewage problems was discussed during the meeting of Chester City Council Tuesday night in the chambers at City Hall.

Percy Willison, street department chairman, reported that several residents had inquired into the possibility of having extra street lights set up in various locations and that Postmaster Robert Edwards had requested another light at the site of the new post office.

It was pointed out by Councilman Donald Hissam that it has been the usual practice for individuals or organizations to install such lighting at their own expense and that, in the case of the post office, the federal government should bear the cost.

No action was taken on the matter.

It was reported that water damage had occurred at various locations in the City Park as the result of inadequate drainage facilities. Several methods of rectifying the situation were advanced for further study.

Willison announced that railroad officials in Pittsburgh, in response to a written request from James Jordan, city solicitor, had agreed to remove a switch engine from the vicinity of homes near the track between 9th and 10th Sts.

Residents had complained that through the winter months the locomotive has remained in operation continuously during the night, causing a disturbance.

Councilman Walter McSwegin pointed to the need for new electrically - operated sliding door for the entrance to the fire station. The cost of a new door would run slightly more than $960, he said.

Remittances in the amount of $7,063.14 were ordered turned into the city treasury. Sheriff's taxes of $6,996.43 constituted the bulk of the amount.

Bills totaling $7,148.62 were approved for payment. Largest expenditures were $829.11 for repair of the grader, $1,509 for fire hose and $2,807.75 to the Ohio Tar & Asphalt Co. as the final payment for work done in the street program.

Mayor Harry Abrams, Roy Cashdollar, clerk, and all councilmen were present at last night's session.

Lack Of Sign Frees Driver

Upholding the defense contention that the inbound Freeway stretch between State Route 170 and the city limits does not have a single speed limit sign, Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff Tuesday dismissed a charge against a motorist accused of driving 70 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone.

The judge acquitted Richard W. Wright of Calcutta, cited by the State Highway Patrol on Nov. 5. Wright had pleaded not guilty earlier. He was represented by George A. Aronson. The trial was delayed by several continuances.

Before ruling in the case, Judge Chertoff made a personal inspection of the stretch of four-lane highway and said he could not find a single speed limit sign marking the inbound lanes. He said the nearest sign that would be visible to a motorist headed for East Liverpool on Route 30 is at the junction of the Y. & O. Rd. and Route 30 several hundred yards from the point where the Freeway begins.

Wright testified he was en route to a football game at the time he was cited in a patrol radar check. He said he drove along Route 170 and then turned left onto the Freeway stretch, so did not see any speed limit signs.

The judge said he observed speed limit signs on both sides of the highway inside the city limits and on the outbound lanes outside the corporate line.

He said as a result of the discovery in the trial yesterday, the patrol indicated it will cite the lack of signs to Earl Nelson, head of the Division 11 office of the State Highway Department in New Philadelphia.

Bid Of U.S. Steel Low For Work On Bridge

CHARLESTON (AP) — The U.S. Steel Corp. of Pittsburgh offered the apparent low bid of $1,626,433 Tuesday for major construction on an Ohio River bridge at Huntington.

The firm was the apparent low bidder on a contract to build the superstructure for a new toll bridge on the west side of Huntington.

The bridge, when completed in 1968, will carry new W. Va. 94 across the river to a point near Chesapeake, Ohio.

W. Va. 94, in turn, will link up with Interstate 64 on the southern edge of Huntington.

Bids on the bridge project were opened by the State Road Commission.

Man Reaches For Cigarette And Autos Hit

A traffic mishap in East End Tuesday was triggered when a driver bent to retrieve a cigarette he had dropped, police reported.

The quest for the dropped cigarette caused the 1953 sedan of James Vaughn, 44, of Williams Ave., Fisher Park, to strike the rear of a halted 1956 sedan driven by Leo F. Lemal, 17, of Glenmoor, officers said.

The crash was timed at 11:46 a. m. on Pennsylvania Ave., 30 feet west of Oakland Ave. Police said it damaged the front of Vaughn's car and the rear bumper and panel of Lemal's auto.

Vaughn estimated his speed at 25 miles an hour. Lemal said he was halted for a traffic light.

Meanwhile, Charles Thomas Bailey of 534 1st Ave. told officers his 1961 model coupe was struck Monday night or Tuesday morning by a neighbor's car which may have drifted from a nearby parking place.

Bailey said his auto received damage to the rear deck lid while parked on 1st Ave. south of Pennsylvania Ave. He said he parked the auto in front of his home at 9:30 p. m. Monday. At 8 a. m. Tuesday, he saw that the 1949 four-door sedan of Doffis D. Stowers of 532 1st Ave. was parked near by, Bailey reported. He said at 10:15 a. m. when he emerged from his house to use his car he found that the Stowers auto had bumped his car. Police said there apparently was no damage to the Stowers car.

A collision Tuesday at 3:18 p. m. on Lincoln Ave. at Almont St. damaged a 1963 sedan driven by Marjorie M. Manley, 39, of 667 Lincoln Ave. and a 1962 sedan operated by Thomas F. Boston, 31, of 359 Jackman St., police said.

The woman said her auto was halted when hit from the rear. Boston told officers his attention was distracted momentarily by pedestrians and when he looked forward again it was too late to stop.

Merchants' Unit Airs January Meeting Plan

The agenda for a Jan. 18 meeting of the full organization was discussed when the Executive Board of the East Liverpool Merchants Association met Tuesday in the Chamber of Commerce office.

Dayton Allen, chairman, presided.

ELMA members voted at the November meeting to cancel the regular December session and ask the Executive Board to meet, if necessary, on any routine year-end business.

Music Will Feature South Side Program

The South Side Parent-Teacher Association will sponsor a musical program at the high school Monday at 8 p.m.

George Russi, music director at the Senior and junior high schools, and Mrs. Steward Kennedy, music director at the elementary schools, will discuss the "Music Curriculum in South Side Schools."

Vocal and instrumental groups will perform and there will be group singing of Christmas carols.

Interest Rate Rise Seen Affecting Family Budget

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Credit is a way of life with many Americans and most businessmen. A general rise in interest rates thus can affect the family budget and business operating costs.

But by how much? And how will they react? Those are the questions now that the Federal Reserve Board has raised the basic interest rate. It now charges banks 4½ per cent to borrow from it instead of the 4 per cent as of last week. This led many commercial banks to raise their own prime, or basic, rate for loans to business from the previous 4½ per cent to 5 per cent.

The question is whether this will spiral into higher borrowing costs for consumers and for most businessmen. And if it does, will this dim the ardor of many families for new gadgets bought on time, cause many firms to trim borrowing plans — or to raise prices to offset rising operating costs.

Those who think the effects of the Fed's action may be slight argue this way:

—Few business loans of late have been made at the old prime rate of 4½ per cent. Most firms have been paying 5 per cent or more to get funds. The big demand for credit may push the borrowing costs for the least favorable risks a bit higher. But few customers are likely to be driven away.

—Interest is tax deductible. That is, it is part of operating costs to be charged off before paying the corporate income tax. This is still near 50 per cent, so businessmen figure that, in effect, the Treasury will be paying about half of any increase in borrowing costs.

—Consumers pay little attention to interest rates, according to lenders. What they want to know is the amount of the monthly payment and how it fits their paycheck. A rise of a few cents due to higher interest costs may mean little in today's affluent society.

But many critics of the Federal Reserve's tighter money policy fear the worst. And here are some of the dire possibilities they foresee:

—Costlier borrowing and tighter credit may lead corporations to take a second look at the cost of expansion plans, and at the probable profits to be made from taking on more plant and equipment. If business capital spending drops, the whole economy will suffer.

—Dearer money will make it more expensive for businessmen to carry inventories, thus either trimming their buying from producers, or tempting them to raise prices to their customers — losing a few, if they do.

—Bond offerings to finance state and local building of schools, roads, waterworks and the like will be harder to float and costlier to the taxpayers who ultimately foot the interest charges.

—The U.S. Treasury must borrow more money to finance a growing deficit — and already its annual interest cost has risen to the $12-billion level.

—Building and sale of new homes has been in the doldrums of late. If mortgage costs rise, it could be still harder to find buyers.

Non-Catholic U.S. Leaders Laud Vatican Council Work

NEW YORK (AP) — Non-Catholic American religious leaders in general lauded the work of the Vatican Ecumenical Council and said today it opens the way for a new era of collaboration among churches.

Many said the council went farther in modifying Roman Catholic policy of long standing that any outsider had thought possible.

Dr. Edwin Tuller, secretary of the American Baptist Convention, said the council "opened opportunities for communication between the Roman Church and the Protestant Church that were never there before."

Dr. Eugene Carson Blake, clerk of the General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A., said "the ecumenical movement has been greatly strengthened and we look forward to ever-increasing unity and cooperation."

Evangelist Billy Graham commented: "The council brought out a new understanding and spirit among all Christians, the debates provided a new understanding on the part of Protestants of what the Church of Rome believes, and it provided for a new reformation — or freedom — within the Church of Rome."

Dr. Nelson Glueck, president of Hebrew Union College in Cincinnati, felt that the council deliberations resulted in "a tremendous forward-going development in religious history."

Dr. Robert Jodds, associate secretary for Christian unity of the National Council of Churches and a guest observer for six weeks of the council's final session, had this to say:

"My strongest impression was that of the new openness of the Catholic Church.

"Together with other observers on the scene I was most impressed by the evidence of spiritual vitality in the Roman Catholic Church and by the promise of a new era of brotherhood and working collaboration among all churches."

Dr. Porter Routh, executive secretary of the Southern Baptist Convention's Executive Committee, said, "We are encouraged with the accomplishments the council made in granting religious liberties and we hope they will follow through with this."

He expressed disappointment, however, that "the council did not take a more definite stand in the abolition of Protestant-Catholic marriage contracts."

Dr. Franklin Clark Fry, president of the Lutheran Church in America, viewed the declaration on religious liberty as the council's "most welcome accomplishment."

"The outstanding virtue," Dr. Fry said, "is recognition that not only Christian individuals but Christian communities exist outside the Roman Catholic Church. This should bring a new, true understanding of the whole Christian family."

Incumbent Bay Village Mayor Loses Runoff

CLEVELAND (AP) — Gilbert C. Holtz defeated incumbent Bay Village Mayor M. M. Barber in a runoff Tuesday, 2,397 to 1,141. Barber had been mayor since 1957.

The runoff was required because of a charter amendment that requires a mayoral winner in the general election to receive 45 per cent of the total vote. None of the four candidates reached that mark on Nov. 2, although Holtz led.

U.S. Judge Claimed

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—U.S. District Judge Allan K. Grim, 61, collapsed and died Tuesday on a downtown street. Grim, who had a heart condition since 1961, sat on the Eastern District bench of Pennsylvania. He was named to the post in 1949 by then President Harry S. Truman.

Roving Strikes

★ ★ ★

Copters Aim At Red Infiltration

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. forces probably will use intensified "roving strikes" by helicopter-borne fighting men against a heavier inflow of Communist North Vietnamese troops.

Barring a major change in national policy, it is considered highly unlikely that the United States will send troops into Laos to form a fence to cut off the movement of North Vietnamese regulars into beleaguered South Viet Nam. Also, Cambodia's professed neutrality will be respected, even though U.S. officials believe Communist troops have used that country as a sanctuary.

This picture emerged from interviews with top sources familiar with the planning in the growing war in Viet Nam.

There is a body of opinion in the military which favors the idea of sending U.S. troops into Laos and thus to try to sever the infiltration lines over which a growing number of North Vietnamese regulars are believed moving south.

As one source put it, "It's better to put a bucket under the faucet than to try to mop up the floor."

Within the present policy, sources said, the United States is basically fighting a strategic defensive in its efforts to save South Viet Nam from being overrun by the Communists.

The best way to do this, experts said, is to take the tactical offensive — "to find the Communists and cut them to pieces."

This is a course of action which U.S. ground combat forces have been following for months and which apparently will be amplified.

Officials cite the recent bloody battle in the Ia Drang Valley as an example of what could be expected in the future.

In that running fight, troopers of the U.S. 1st Cavalry, Airmobile, Division and their South Vietnamese allies killed nearly 2,300 of the enemy. U.S. losses totaled less than 10 per cent of the Communist dead.

There is every indication that the section of the infiltration network extending from North Viet Nam through Laos is in for some heavy aerial pounding.

Information available here suggests that the Communists have made progressive improvements over the past year in their ability to move both northward and southward through Laos.

One informant said there is "a significant amount of evidence that the roads have been improved and that the network of roads and trails has been extended."

A key factor in weighing the impact of increased Communist infiltration is an evaluation of the capability of the Communists to sustain their forces. This is still an imponderable, U.S. sources said.

U.S. authorities here estimate the North Vietnamese have about 30 battalions in South Viet Nam.

Assuming they double their forces, the sources said, it is estimated it would take about 90 tons of supplies a day to maintain a force of this size.

North Vietnamese battalions total about 400 or 500 men each. At this level, 60 battalions would total some 30,000 men.

In the light of this, U.S. authorities consider of vital importance roving strikes into areas where the Communists have built up arms and food caches.

If the infiltration routes through Laos come under heavy air attack, the North Vietnamese and their Viet Cong allies would have to fall back on these stored-up stocks. Destroy these stocks, and the enemy has been dealt a serious blow, officials said.

In the same context, authorities rate as of primary importance the protection of the rice crop in South Viet Nam by U.S. and South Vietnamese forces. This is intended to keep an essential food source from the Communist enemy.

It is clear that U.S. authorities are placing strong reliance on the helicopter movement of American and South Vietnamese troops from one battlefield to another as a means to counter anticipated larger-scale infiltration.

They said that the Allied forces can use the roving strike technique to shift their base of operations and area of operations swiftly.

The 1st Cavalry, a special air mobile outfit, has 428 helicopters to lift its troopers. The Army's 1st Infantry Division, though not called air mobile, has 97 helicopters. Chopper companies are available to other U.S. ground combat forces.

Top U.S. leaders have made it clear that the United States will continue to build up its helicopter strength, which they believe has enabled U.S. and South Vietnamese troops to spring over long distances and overcome terrain obstacles in a country of primitive land communications.

The expanded U.S. buildup, officials said, probably will include additional combat elements. But they said that there still is a need for support troops to round out the U.S. force.

American servicemen in Viet Nam now total about 165,700, and there is speculation that the buildup will reach 300,000 and maybe even more.

New Machine Of Democrats Learning Politician's Trade

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democrats have unveiled a new look in political machines: a humming, light-winking computer that is quickly learning the tricks of the politician's trade.

By the first of the year they plan to have it ready to write up to 1,000 letters an hour — each one personalized — for Democratic congressmen. It can sign them, too.

Later the computer may be used to seek the names of potential Democratic voters who have not registered. Party workers could then encourage them to enroll as voters.

The former Secret Service agent who supervises the computer's operation said it can be programmed to handle a wide assortment of political chores.

"It just allows us to do things that would be impractical any other way," said Jerry Blaine, who supervises the room-size machine and a staff of 15 persons who keep it humming.

Already the machines handles mailing lists, addressing and accounting chores. More than 5 million Democratic names — and a variety of information about the people who bear them — are recorded on its magnetic tape.

A 9 ½-inch reel of tape will hold 100,000 names; a filing cabinet, 20 million. Also recorded: occupation, age, family, nickname and dozens of other tidbits of information.

Democratic National Committee mailing lists, plus those of about 80 congressmen, have been stored on the computer tapes, Blaine said.

The machine, in the basement of the office building where the party has its national headquarters, is leased for about $5,000 a month. The payroll for its operation totals about $11,000 monthly. Congressmen who use the service pay part of the bill.

1 Killed, 1 Overcome While Inspecting Tank

ASHTABULA, Ohio (AP) — Robert Miltner, 45, of Conneaut was killed and a co-worker overcome while inspecting a newly installed titanium reducer tank at Reactive Metals Co. Tuesday.

Miltner entered the empty tank and collapsed. Martin Szalai Jr., 39, followed Miltner and fell against him. Another worker pushed an oxygen hose through a hole in the top of the tank and went for help. Szalai was reported in good condition.

Top U.S. leaders have made it clear that the United States will continue to build up its helicopter strength, which they believe has enabled U.S. and South Vietnamese troops to spring over long distances and overcome terrain obstacles in a country of primitive land communications.

The expanded U.S. buildup, officials said, probably will include additional combat elements. But they said that there still is a need for support troops to round out the U.S. force.

American servicemen in Viet Nam now total about 165,700, and there is speculation that the buildup will reach 300,000 and maybe even more.

New Machine Of Democrats Learning Politician's Trade

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democrats have unveiled a new look in political machines: a humming, light-winking computer that is quickly learning the tricks of the politician's trade.

By the first of the year they plan to have it ready to write up to 1,000 letters an hour — each one personalized — for Democratic congressmen. It can sign them, too.

Later the computer may be used to seek the names of potential Democratic voters who have not registered. Party workers could then encourage them to enroll as voters.

The former Secret Service agent who supervises the computer's operation said it can be programmed to handle a wide assortment of political chores.

"It just allows us to do things that would be impractical any other way," said Jerry Blaine, who supervises the room-size machine and a staff of 15 persons who keep it humming.

Already the machines handles mailing lists, addressing and accounting chores. More than 5 million Democratic names — and a variety of information about the people who bear them — are recorded on its magnetic tape.

A 9 ½-inch reel of tape will hold 100,000 names; a filing cabinet, 20 million. Also recorded: occupation, age, family, nickname and dozens of other tidbits of information.

Democratic National Committee mailing lists, plus those of about 80 congressmen, have been stored on the computer tapes, Blaine said.

The machine, in the basement of the office building where the party has its national headquarters, is leased for about $5,000 a month. The payroll for its operation totals about $11,000 monthly. Congressmen who use the service pay part of the bill.

1 Killed, 1 Overcome While Inspecting Tank

ASHTABULA, Ohio (AP) — Robert Miltner, 45, of Conneaut was killed and a co-worker overcome while inspecting a newly installed titanium reducer tank at Reactive Metals Co. Tuesday.

Miltner entered the empty tank and collapsed. Martin Szalai Jr., 39, followed Miltner and fell against him. Another worker pushed an oxygen hose through a hole in the top of the tank and went for help. Szalai was reported in good condition.

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — The Shah of Iran today greeted his oil-rich counterpart, King Faisal of Saudi Arabia, as he arrived in Tehran for a seven-day state visit.

The two men were expected to discuss Persian Gulf security, Islamic unity and oil cooperation between the two friendly Moslem states.

NEW YORK (AP) — Sargent Shriver, director of the Peace Corps and the Office of Economic Opportunity, says "the time has come for our country to receive, and indeed we need, (Peace Corps) volunteers from foreign countries."

Shriver Tuesday night endorsed a "reverse Peace Corps," with volunteers from abroad coming to the United States just as U.S. Peace Corps volunteers are serving in other countries.

"We need these volunteers to teach us," he said, "and we should bring the same sense of urgency to this program as we have given to sending ours abroad."

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—From Braulio Fierros, a retired sign painter who has provided for his 19 children without benefit of charity or welfare aid, gave this advice today:

"Give kids love, make them feel wanted and don't let your wife work."

Fierros, 65, was one of 12 children and went to work to help support them after his father's death forced him to leave school after the third grade.

None of his children ever was in trouble with the law, Fierros said. His grandchildren number 56, and he has six great-grandchildren.

Hopes Work Brings Renewal To World

Pope Says 'Go In Peace' As Vatican Council Closes

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Paul VI formally closed the Vatican Ecumenical Council today and said he hoped its work would bring renewal to all the world, not to the Roman Catholic Church alone.

His final words closing the three-year council were "Ite in pace"—Go in peace.

The great clock on the facade of St. Peter's Basilica showed 1:25 p.m. (7:25 a.m. EST) as the end came to the assembly which the Pope declared was the greatest in the history of the Church.

More than 100,000 Romans and pilgrims thronged St. Peter's Square for the outdoor ceremonies ending the council which Pope John XXIII had opened on Oct. 11, 1962.

Princes, government heads, foreign ministers and other dignitaries from nearly 100 nations watched as the 2,300 bishops moved in procession from the Apostolic Palace across the square to the steps of St. Peter's Basilica.

After them came Pope Paul on his portable throne.

The Vatican published a papal brief formally closing the council and declaring it the greatest of the 21 general assemblies of the Church. It said all Roman Catholics were bound to accept its decisions, which ushered in a new era for the Church of reform within and improved contacts with the rest of the world.

The brief also declared invalid all arguments that had been raised against the council's decisions.

The Pope in an address during a special Mass said he hoped the council would bring about a renewal for the world, not the Church alone. Describing his speech as a greeting to the peoples of the world, he said he hoped the assembly "would be able to work in the Church and the world that renewal of thought, activity, customs and moral force and joy and hope that was the very scope" of the council.

Obviously speaking to persons in Communist lands, he said he was especially addressing "all unjustly held in silence, in oppression and in deprivation of legitimate and sacred rights, owed to every honest man, and especially to you, brothers, who are none other than doers of good, piety and peace."

Unusual details marked the ceremony, with Pope Paul giving $90,000 in checks for charities in five nations as "a symbol of the charity of the entire Church, united around the Pope in the persons of his bishops."

The checks will mean $30,000 for a hospital in Bethlehem, Jordan; $20,000 for community projects by a religious order in Argentina; $15,000 each for agricultural training in southern India and for Catholic Welfare work in Pakistan, and $10,000 for Catholic welfare in Cambodia.

The Pope also wrote special messages addressed to government leaders, intellectuals, artists, women, workers, the poor and the sick, and youth.

The first stone of a new church in Rome to commemorate the Ecumenical Council was put near the papal throne in front of the basilica for the pontiff's blessing. The new church will be called "Our Lady, Mother of the Church" after a title that Paul VI declared for the Virgin Mary as the 1964 phase of the council was completed.

The council's ending came on a major holy day honoring the mother of Christ, the feast of the Immaculate Conception.

The Vatican Council, 21st in Roman Catholic history and the first in almost a century, issued 16 decrees seeking to renew and bring up to date much of the Church's own worship and government and to make strong new approaches to everyone everywhere outside the Church.

Christian unity was as much its goal as Catholic renewal.

The last four decrees were proclaimed Tuesday.

The cost of the council has been estimated at $20 million.

Congress Unit Calls FRB On Interest Hike

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate-House Economic Committee has summoned the entire seven-member Federal Reserve Board to discuss the board's hike in interest rates.

Chairman Wright Patman, D-Tex., said the hearings would open next Monday.

Patman said committee members with whom he had talked agreed the Federal Reserve action "could have a substantial impact on the health of our economy and upon the formulation of fiscal and other government economic policies in the months ahead."

An administration economist, meanwhile, said higher interest rates might cause some companies to eliminate or reduce marginal investments. He said there is no way to tell how much increased borrowing costs would affect plant or equipment spending since there is no way to tell how far interest rates would rise.

Little immediate effect can be expected, he added, because most financing is planned well ahead of building projects.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, in a speech Tuesday before the Institute of Life Insurance in New York, joined President Johnson in regretting that the Federal Reserve decision was made "before it was possible to give full consideration to the January budget decisions and to the economic outlook for private spending in 1966."

The Federal Reserve action comprised two main steps: a raise in the rate on time deposits of more than 30 days from 4½ to 5½ per cent and an increase from 4 to 4½ per cent in the discount rate—the interest charged by the 12 regional Federal Reserve banks on loans to member commercial banks.

In a follow-up action, the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. Tuesday gave member state banks approval to pay the higher rates on time deposits but urged "utmost caution."

Services Conducted For Victim Of Crash

Services were held in Altoona, Pa., Tuesday for Mrs. Dolly Householder, who was killed in an auto accident last Friday at Falls Church, Va.

She and her husband, Fred Householder, were en route to a Sweet Adeline performance when the mishap occurred. He is a patient at a Fairfax (Va.) hospital.

Mrs. Householder, formerly of Wintersville, was a former member of the local chapter of Sweet Adelines, Inc.

Building Up Firepower

Reds' Arms, Ammunition Speak For War Escalation

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A striking change in the Communist arms and ammunition picture testifies to the escalation of the war in Viet Nam.

Building up their firepower, Communist forces depend more and more on standardized weapons from Red nations. Captured U.S. arms, ammunition and equipment — once a major factor in guerrilla fighting — are fading into relative insignificance.

U.S. weapons now are often left by the Communists on the battlefield. The Viet Cong used to support themselves with captured equipment.

Captured American arms still play some part. So do arms dating to the days of the French Indochina fighting a dozen years ago. But small-arms ammunition is not interchangeable between weapons of U.S. manufacture and those made in Communist nations. The Communists need a source for ammunition if they are to use U.S. weapons.

There is little evidence of clandestine ammunition traffic between Viet Nam and Western countries. The main source has had to be captured material. Possibly there now is another source: ammunition manufactured for U.S. small arms in North Viet Nam. Competent sources say it is highly unlikely that Red China makes such ammunition.

The Viet Cong use captured weapons when they must, but there is little doubt now that the Communist forces prefer equipment from the Communist bloc countries. One reason is that they may consider some of the bloc weapons to be superior to the equivalent U.S. makes.

Recent reports published in the United States have suggested that much of the ammunition for American weapons still used by Viet Cong units came from allies of the United States through direct or indirect sales.

Pentagon and State Department sources say hard-core Viet Cong and North Vietnamese regulars use Communist-made weapons almost exclusively. For those American weapons still in use, these authorities say, the main source of ammunition is battlefield capture from South Vietnamese units. The Pentagon says it has no indication of any transshipment of U.S. material to the Communists.

An Associated Press survey of Allied capitals found officials skeptical of reports that arms and ammunition made in the United States are diverted to the Viet Cong.

386 Cases Are Filed In 3 County Courts

LISBON — There were 386 cases, including 289 criminal and 97 civil actions, filed during November at county courts in Salem, East Palestine and Lisbon, according to a report released by Carl L. Stacey, clerk of courts.

Stacey said 55 per cent of fines in patrol cases and other fines paid to the county treasurer amounted to $2,964.38. Forty-five per cent, or $2,179.12, was paid to the state on patrol cases and others.

A total of $1,790.15 was paid the county treasurer in court costs in both civil and criminal actions. Sheriff, constable and city police fees paid out amounted to $287.97, while other fines paid the state totaled $10.

North Forty Stable's Sadair was a supplementary entry in the 1964 Pimlico Futurity. It cost $7,500 to make him eligible and it was a wise investment. Sadair won the race and earned a purse of $110,912.

Senator Opposes Any Reduction

Bomber-Cut Plan Meets With Strong Opposition

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon's reported plan for a deep cut in this country's present long-range bomber fleet by 1971 has met formidable opposition in Congress.

Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., chairman of the powerful Senate Armed Services Committee, objected to any such bomber reduction. He also opposed any scaling down of this country's defenses against Soviet bombers.

Russell, who swings considerable influence on Capitol Hill, said Tuesday night, "I am deeply concerned over" Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara's "abandonment of the manned strategic bomber and adoption of the concept that this country is in no danger from Russian attack by manned bombers."

Sources indicated Tuesday night that the Defense Department intends to retire about two-thirds of its force of 680 B52 and B58 jet bombers over the next five fiscal years.

This would leave about 250 of the late-model B52s, greater in range and equipped with more powerful engines than the earlier models. All of the supersonic B58s would be phased out.

The action may be linked to a reported intention to propose an advanced bomber which would be an adaptation of the controversial TFX, now under development as a fighter of the future.

A number of fighter-interceptor squadrons are to be eliminated by mid-1969. In addition, various Nike Hercules antiaircraft missile units are to be disbanded.

This suggests that top U.S. authorities now downrate the significance of the Soviet bomber threat in an era of emphasis on missiles in both the Soviet Union and the United States.

The United States is believed by U.S. officials to enjoy a 6-1 edge over the Russians in long-range bombers and about a 3-1 margin over the Russians in long-range missiles.

The cutback in bombers and air defenses was signaled in data supplied to congressmen amplifying on McNamara's announcement Monday that 149 more bases would be shut down, reduced or consolidated.

In his public announcement, McNamara did not hint at any basic change in U.S. defense — although he did say that the Pentagon's base program is shaped to fit "advancements in technology and changes in military requirements."

The Defense Department was to list today the bases that will be closed.

Harold Moore Named As Head Of Yacht Club

Harold Moore was named commodore of the East Liverpool Yacht Club, succeeding Howard Hinton, during a meeting Monday night in the Hall China Co. Foremen's Club.

Other new officers are: John Falone, vice commodore; Robley Evans, treasurer; Niles Blackmore, secretary; Sam Wolfe, public relations officer, and Clarence Crytzer, dockmaster. Hinton had served two years as commodore. Other retiring officers and their length of service are: William Fellows, vice commodore, and William McDaniel, treasurer, also two years, and Wolfe, secretary, 10 years.

The club discussed plans for the 1966 season, including appointment of a social committee. The officers will be installed at the next meeting Jan. 9 at the foremen's club.

During the first month of the hockey season the Boston Bruins used three goal tenders—Ed Johnston, Gerry Cheevers and 20-year-old Bernie Parent.

Hopes Work Brings Renewal To World

Pope Says 'Go In Peace' As Vatican Council Closes

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Paul VI formally closed the Vatican Ecumenical Council today and said he hoped its work would bring renewal to all the world, not to the Roman Catholic Church alone.

His final words closing the three-year council were "Ite in pace"—Go in peace.

The great clock on the facade of St. Peter's Basilica showed 1:25 p.m. (7:25 a.m. EST) as the end came to the assembly which the Pope declared was the greatest in the history of the Church.

More than 100,000 Romans and pilgrims thronged St. Peter's Square for the outdoor ceremonies ending the council which Pope John XXIII had opened on Oct. 11, 1962.

Princes, government heads, foreign ministers and other dignitaries from nearly 100 nations watched as the 2,300 bishops moved in procession from the Apostolic Palace across the square to the steps of St. Peter's Basilica.

After them came Pope Paul on his portable throne.

The Vatican published a papal brief formally closing the council and declaring it the greatest of the 21 general assemblies of the Church. It said all Roman Catholics were bound to accept its decisions, which ushered in a new era for the Church of reform within and improved contacts with the rest of the world.

The brief also declared invalid all arguments that had been raised against the council's decisions.

The Pope in an address during a special Mass said he hoped the council would bring about a renewal for the world, not the Church alone. Describing his speech as a greeting to the peoples of the world, he said he hoped the assembly "would be able to work in the Church and the world that renewal of thought, activity, customs and moral force and joy and hope that was the very scope" of the council.

Obviously speaking to persons in Communist lands, he said he was especially addressing "all unjustly held in silence, in oppression and in deprivation of legitimate and sacred rights, owed to every honest man, and especially to you, brothers, who are none other than doers of good, piety and peace."

Unusual details marked the ceremony, with Pope Paul giving $90,000 in checks for charities in five nations as "a symbol of the charity of the entire Church, united around the Pope in the persons of his bishops."

The checks will mean $30,000 for a hospital in Bethlehem, Jordan; $20,000 for community projects by a religious order in Argentina; $15,000 each for agricultural training in southern India and for Catholic Welfare work in Pakistan, and $10,000 for Catholic welfare in Cambodia.

The Pope also wrote special messages addressed to government leaders, intellectuals, artists, women, workers, the poor and the sick, and youth.

The first stone of a new church in Rome to commemorate the Ecumenical Council was put near the papal throne in front of the basilica for the pontiff's blessing. The new church will be called "Our Lady, Mother of the Church" after a title that Paul VI declared for the Virgin Mary as the 1964 phase of the council was completed.

The council's ending came on a major holy day honoring the mother of Christ, the feast of the Immaculate Conception.

The Vatican Council, 21st in Roman Catholic history and the first in almost a century, issued 16 decrees seeking to renew and bring up to date much of the Church's own worship and government and to make strong new approaches to everyone everywhere outside the Church.

Christian unity was as much its goal as Catholic renewal.

The last four decrees were proclaimed Tuesday.

The cost of the council has been estimated at $20 million.

Congress Unit Calls FRB On Interest Hike

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate-House Economic Committee has summoned the entire seven-member Federal Reserve Board to discuss the board's hike in interest rates.

Chairman Wright Patman, D-Tex., said the hearings would open next Monday.

Patman said committee members with whom he had talked agreed the Federal Reserve action "could have a substantial impact on the health of our economy and upon the formulation of fiscal and other government economic policies in the months ahead."

An administration economist, meanwhile, said higher interest rates might cause some companies to eliminate or reduce marginal investments. He said there is no way to tell how much increased borrowing costs would affect plant or equipment spending since there is no way to tell how far interest rates would rise.

Little immediate effect can be expected, he added, because most financing is planned well ahead of building projects.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, in a speech Tuesday before the Institute of Life Insurance in New York, joined President Johnson in regretting that the Federal Reserve decision was made "before it was possible to give full consideration to the January budget decisions and to the economic outlook for private spending in 1966."

The Federal Reserve action comprised two main steps: a raise in the rate on time deposits of more than 30 days from 4½ to 5½ per cent and an increase from 4 to 4½ per cent in the discount rate—the interest charged by the 12 regional Federal Reserve banks on loans to member commercial banks.

In a follow-up action, the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. Tuesday gave member state banks approval to pay the higher rates on time deposits but urged "utmost caution."

Baldwin To Fill Council Vacancy

Allen C. Baldwin of 1708 Maple Ave. was appointed to fill the unexpired term of the late Mrs. Mary Rahter as president of Wellsville City Council Tuesday night.

MR. BALDWIN

ABC, I.T.&T. Merger Set

NEW YORK (AP) — American Broadcasting Companies Inc. and the International Telephone & Telegraph Corp. have agreed to merge into a $1.8-billion concern operating in nearly every phase of the communications industry.

The merger, approved by the boards of directors of the two companies Tuesday night, would involve a stock transaction of between $350 and $400 million.

The impact of the merger would be felt strongly abroad. I.T.&T. is a major producer of radio, television and appliances in Europe, Latin America and the Far East.

Soon To Be In Power 6 Months

Ky Has Made Something Of Mark As Viet Premier

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — In a country where good government has come to mean any government that can survive for more than just a few weeks, Premier Nguyen Cao Ky has made something of a mark.

By mid-December he will have held power for six months. Few expected this when he took over the government in mid-June as the front man for the group of "Young Turk" generals who wield the real power in South Viet Nam.

The civilian government that preceeded Ky collapsed under the weight of political rivalry and bickering.

Many thought that Ky, 35, who as Vietnamese air force commander cut a dashing figure in the skies and on the boulevards of Saigon, was a political amateur. He was expected either to tire soon of the rigors of premiership and resign, or get edged out in the backroom byplay of military politics.

Ky hasn't tired of politics, mainly because he doesn't play them. He has no mandate from the people. Ky rules by decree and with the approval of the generals in the back room. The generals have made it clear that as long as Ky wants the job of premier he can have it — as long as he doesn't step on their toes.

Ky, in a series of public speeches and decrees, has attempted to force industry and honesty upon his war-weary and politically disillusioned nation.

Early in his reign he proclaimed austerity measures, broke off diplomatic relations with France and officially declared war on the Viet Cong guerrillas.

But after six months, it is Ky's record time in office, rather than what he has done, that distinguishes his regime.

When he became premier, the American mission in Viet Nam did not seem concerned about whether he was good, bad or indifferent.

In 20 months, between the overthrow and murder of President Ngo Dinh Diem and the appointment of Ky, Viet Nam had gone through three coup d'etats, four attempted coups, and 19 government reshuffles.

U.S. policy was to get a government of stability, and stability was equated with survival. "We'll take anyone, as long as he stays there," one official was quoted as saying at the time.

Ky has stayed put. But he started from rock bottom, and the shadow of the war has darkened all his actions.

The political problem for the United States in Viet Nam has not been to get a democratic government. That wish can be realized only far in the future.

The main problem was to get an effective government. Ky has these actions to his credit so far:

He has gathered around him a group of young ministers and aides who talk enthusiastically about South Viet Nam's future, and who are prepared to listen to American "elder statesman" advice about government, notably from U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge.

Ky is not a military dictator. He is chief spokesman and executive leader of a nine-man national leadership committee of the top generals. This group has presented a united military front for the first time, stilling religious and student opposition to central authority. Ky does not intend to suffer the fate of the former strongman, Gen. Nguyen Khanh, who was destroyed because civilian opposition penetrated the chinks of the armor of the military group supporting him. Ky has no chinks.

Ky improved the morale of the armed forces by raising their pay 40 per cent and liberalizing promotions. Whether these measures will counteract the impact of morale from a recent Communist attacks remains to be seen.

Ky has attempted to come to grips with the problems of rural pacification by introducing a land reform program, and training cadres to work among villagers. The reform program has hardly gotten off the ground because much of the land he is giving away is in the hands of the Viet Cong. And Ky is finding it as difficult as his predecessors to get people interested enough in working in the villages on pacification projects.

Ky has attempted to improve his image at home and abroad by traveling and by sending his attractive wife, Mai, to charity functions and hospitals. But Ky has found that popularity is elusive. To Vietnamese living outside the cities, Ky is just another name. Vietnamese have become cynical about their leaders and don't seem to take them seriously. Ky has yet to spark much enthusiam.

He has attempted to tackle some major problems. One of these is corruption, a permanent canker within Vietnamese officialdon.

His record on this so far is good. Ky has followed up public statements with action. One province chief had connections with top generals but made the mistake of openly antagonizing and intimidating the U.S. aid mission. The U.S. mission withdrew aid from the province to force Ky's hand. After a cliff-hanging few weeks, Ky fired the province chief.

The corruption problem remains a big one. Even Ky himself is accused of it, but not because of any proven acts. The Vietnamese remember the recent slayer of the corruption dragon, Gen. Khanh — whom the new government accused of getting away with millions of dollars of U.S. aid money.

No preparations have been made for any transfer of political power from the military, and Viet Nam can expect Ky to remain premier as long as he wants or until some new power alignment takes place in the military junta. This last seems far off.

Ky and the U.S. mission in Saigon have spoken vaguely about elections in a couple of years, but this seems just a sop to the Saigon intellectuals. The experiment with civilian government in the past two years failed because of the power realities in Viet Nam. The military is the only cohesive power here.

In the long run, the measure of the Ky government will not be the patriotic statements and dramatic decrees that he issues. These are made as war swirls around his head and as the whole identity of his nation is shadowed by a wave of U.S. troops and equipment.

"The measure of his government will be in the distance it moves toward providing Vietnamese with all the things that we say we are fighting for," one American observed.

The longer the war lasts, the farther away these ideals will seem for the Vietnam people. Ky's main job will be to convince his weary people that his promises will bear better fruit than the promises made by the Communists.

That is a job the United States is also trying to shoulder in Viet Nam.

Supreme Court Actions Listed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Here are the actions taken Tuesday by the Supreme Court:

Affirmed the authority of the Federal Power Commission to fix, without full-scale hearings, the starting price at which natural gas may be sold in interstate commerce.

Moved to compel greater cooperation among railroads in establishing freight rates and sharing traffic by giving the Western Pacific Railroad Co. "connecting line" status in its efforts to force three other carriers to share freight traffic with it on a Far West route.

Ruled that labor unions winning unfair labor practices cases before the National Labor Relations Board have the right to intervene in U.S. Circuit Court reviews of the proceedings.

When Alabama met Texas in the 1965 Orange Bowl, it marked the Crimson Tide's 18th bowl appearance. Alabama has a 10-6-2 bowl record.

Soon To Be In Power 6 Months

Ky Has Made Something Of Mark As Viet Premier

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — In a country where good government has come to mean any government that can survive for more than just a few weeks, Premier Nguyen Cao Ky has made something of a mark.

By mid-December he will have held power for six months. Few expected this when he took over the government in mid-June as the front man for the group of "Young Turk" generals who wield the real power in South Viet Nam.

The civilian government that preceeded Ky collapsed under the weight of political rivalry and bickering.

Many thought that Ky, 35, who as Vietnamese air force commander cut a dashing figure in the skies and on the boulevards of Saigon, was a political amateur. He was expected either to tire soon of the rigors of premiership and resign, or get edged out in the backroom byplay of military politics.

Ky hasn't tired of politics, mainly because he doesn't play them. He has no mandate from the people. Ky rules by decree and with the approval of the generals in the back room. The generals have made it clear that as long as Ky wants the job of premier he can have it — as long as he doesn't step on their toes.

Ky, in a series of public speeches and decrees, has attempted to force industry and honesty upon his war-weary and politically disillusioned nation.

Early in his reign he proclaimed austerity measures, broke off diplomatic relations with France and officially declared war on the Viet Cong guerrillas.

But after six months, it is Ky's record time in office, rather than what he has done, that distinguishes his regime.

When he became premier, the American mission in Viet Nam did not seem concerned about whether he was good, bad or indifferent.

In 20 months, between the overthrow and murder of President Ngo Dinh Diem and the appointment of Ky, Viet Nam had gone through three coup d'etats, four attempted coups, and 19 government reshuffles.

U.S. policy was to get a government of stability, and stability was equated with survival. "We'll take anyone, as long as he stays there," one official was quoted as saying at the time.

Ky has stayed put. But he started from rock bottom, and the shadow of the war has darkened all his actions.

The political problem for the United States in Viet Nam has not been to get a democratic government. That wish can be realized only far in the future.

The main problem was to get an effective government. Ky has these actions to his credit so far:

He has gathered around him a group of young ministers and aides who talk enthusiastically about South Viet Nam's future, and who are prepared to listen to American "elder statesman" advice about government, notably from U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge.

Ky is not a military dictator. He is chief spokesman and executive leader of a nine-man national leadership committee of the top generals. This group has presented a united military front for the first time, stilling religious and student opposition to central authority. Ky does not intend to suffer the fate of the former strongman, Gen. Nguyen Khanh, who was destroyed because civilian opposition penetrated the chinks of the armor of the military group supporting him. Ky has no chinks.

Ky improved the morale of the armed forces by raising their pay 40 per cent and liberalizing promotions. Whether these measures will counteract the impact of morale from a recent Communist attacks remains to be seen.

Ky has attempted to come to grips with the problems of rural pacification by introducing a land reform program, and training cadres to work among villagers. The reform program has hardly gotten off the ground because much of the land he is giving away is in the hands of the Viet Cong. And Ky is finding it as difficult as his predecessors to get people interested enough in working in the villages on pacification projects.

Ky has attempted to improve his image at home and abroad by traveling and by sending his attractive wife, Mai, to charity functions and hospitals. But Ky has found that popularity is elusive. To Vietnamese living outside the cities, Ky is just another name. Vietnamese have become cynical about their leaders and don't seem to take them seriously. Ky has yet to spark much enthusiam.

He has attempted to tackle some major problems. One of these is corruption, a permanent canker within Vietnamese officialdon.

His record on this so far is good. Ky has followed up public statements with action. One province chief had connections with top generals but made the mistake of openly antagonizing and intimidating the U.S. aid mission. The U.S. mission withdrew aid from the province to force Ky's hand. After a cliff-hanging few weeks, Ky fired the province chief.

The corruption problem remains a big one. Even Ky himself is accused of it, but not because of any proven acts. The Vietnamese remember the recent slayer of the corruption dragon, Gen. Khanh — whom the new government accused of getting away with millions of dollars of U.S. aid money.

No preparations have been made for any transfer of political power from the military, and Viet Nam can expect Ky to remain premier as long as he wants or until some new power alignment takes place in the military junta. This last seems far off.

Ky and the U.S. mission in Saigon have spoken vaguely about elections in a couple of years, but this seems just a sop to the Saigon intellectuals. The experiment with civilian government in the past two years failed because of the power realities in Viet Nam. The military is the only cohesive power here.

In the long run, the measure of the Ky government will not be the patriotic statements and dramatic decrees that he issues. These are made as war swirls around his head and as the whole identity of his nation is shadowed by a wave of U.S. troops and equipment.

"The measure of his government will be in the distance it moves toward providing Vietnamese with all the things that we say we are fighting for," one American observed.

The longer the war lasts, the farther away these ideals will seem for the Vietnam people. Ky's main job will be to convince his weary people that his promises will bear better fruit than the promises made by the Communists.

That is a job the United States is also trying to shoulder in Viet Nam.

Supreme Court Actions Listed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Here are the actions taken Tuesday by the Supreme Court:

Affirmed the authority of the Federal Power Commission to fix, without full-scale hearings, the starting price at which natural gas may be sold in interstate commerce.

Moved to compel greater cooperation among railroads in establishing freight rates and sharing traffic by giving the Western Pacific Railroad Co. "connecting line" status in its efforts to force three other carriers to share freight traffic with it on a Far West route.

Ruled that labor unions winning unfair labor practices cases before the National Labor Relations Board have the right to intervene in U.S. Circuit Court reviews of the proceedings.

When Alabama met Texas in the 1965 Orange Bowl, it marked the Crimson Tide's 18th bowl appearance. Alabama has a 10-6-2 bowl record.

Also Most Controversial In Viet Nam

Ambush: The Hated Word

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — The most hated word in the war in Viet Nam is — ambush.

It is also the most controversial word.

It grates on the ears of U.S. military commanders over there. It grates on the ears of civilians here. But the word ambush will remain reluctantly active in our vocabulary as long as we are battling in places such as Southeast Asia.

There is no other word in the language that presently describes better the kind of warfare going on there, unless it be the term "bushwhacking," which is hardly more acceptable. For being ambushed or bushwhacked amounts to the same thing.

The dictionary defines ambush as "a trap in which concealed persons lie in wait to attack by surprise."

Military commanders hate to admit their troops have been ambushed because this implies to many they may have been derelict in their duty. Theoretically, soldiers aren't supposed to enter enemy traps or be caught by surprise. The word has an inescapably derogatory ring to it — unless you are the one who has done the ambushing. Then it sounds fine.

Take an instance reported in recent news dispatches.

Last Sunday in a jungle battle at the edge of a rubber plantation 35 miles northwest of Saigon a battalion of the famous "Big Red One" — the U.S. 1st Infantry Division — killed 200 or more Viet Cong. The battalion suffered its heaviest casualties of the war.

A U.S. spokesman described the action as "a meeting engagement."

"It was a big ambush," said a young officer in the field.

Who was right? Both were. It's a queston of semantics.

The American column was on what is called a "search and destroy" mission. Its men were looking for the enemy, trying to provoke them into battle. The waiting Viet Cong, dug in and well-camouflaged, fired first from positions along a jungle road.

Both sides got what they wanted, and each paid a price The Viet Cong executed an ambush. We had a "meeting engagement." This probably will be the rough pattern of the war for some time to come.

Our purpose is to destroy the enemy in battle. If he won't come to us, inevitably we will have to go to him.

Man's Killed Taking His Babysitter Home

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A Columbus man was killed in suburban Reynoldsburg traffic Tuesday night while taking a babysitter home.

The Highway Patrol said a car driven by Edward Charles Detamore, 53, and another collided.

The babysetter, Mrs. Fern Messley, 71, Reynoldsburg, escaped with minor injuries.

Urges Auto Check

ST. LOUIS (AP)—President Earl B. Hathaway of Firestone Tire & Rubber Co., Akron, Ohio, advocates compulsory vehicle inspection laws, he said here Tuesday. Hathaway also called for stricter driver licensing procedures. In a speech, he said such action would help cut a growing traffic fatality rate.

Rotary Hears Concert Choir

A varied musical program was presented by the 97-member East Liverpool High School concert choir during the luncheon meeting of the Rotary Club Tuesday at the Travelers Hotel.

Highlights sung by the mixed chorus, under the direction of Robert Shankovich, music instructor at the high school, included a spiritual, "Elijah Rock," a Bach harmonization sung in German, and a chorus from the Messiah by Handel.

Following the rendition of a Fred Waring arrangement, the audience joined in the singing of "O Come All Ye Faithful."

Piano accompanists were Mary Cartwright, Valerie Wolfe and Cathy Stover.

C. V. Hughes was program chairman.

Visiting Midland Rotarians were Sam Miller, Ed Richard, Mike Hornick and Frank Meredith. Stephen Eibling introduced W. E. Heidelbaugh and Del Jones of the Cleveland personnel office of Ohio Bell.

Paul Blair, school superintendent, was also a guest.

The Rev. D. Ross Salisbury gave the invocation.

E. R. Chandler presided.

'Profit To All' Program Bared By Ohio Auditor

CINCINNATI (AP)—The state government has worked out a ten-point program that will result in "profit to all," State Auditor Roger Cloud says.

Cloud outlined the program Tuesday night in a speech to the Cincinnati Restaurant Association. He denied that the plan would amount to another extension of government activity in business.

Heading the list was "encouraging industries and commercial enterprises to locate in Ohio and to expand those now situated here."

The other points included:

—Expanding opportunity for young people to gain a broad education and to be benefitted by technical and vocational training to meet the job requirements of the present day.

—Expanding tourist trade through emphasizing Ohio's natural and historic attractions.

—Expanding the degree of cooperation between the state and its communities.

—Expanding the degree of cooperation with local government in effecting solutions for treatment of the mentall ill.

Illinois Educator Chosen To Get Bleininger Award

Dr. Andrew Irving Andrews, who retired in 1963 as head of the Department of Ceramic Engineering at the University of Illinois, was named Tuesday night to receive the 19th annual Albert Victor Bleininger Memorial Award "for distinguished achievement in the field of ceramics."

His selection was announced at a dinner meeting of the Pittsburgh Section of the American Ceramic Society last night at Stouffer's Restaurant in the Oakland section of Pittsburgh. The section presents the award each year in memory of Dr. A. V. Bleininger, who until his death was director of research at the Homer Laughlin China Co.

Dr. Andrews, a resident of Urbana, Ill., was selected by an award committee headed by D. H. Hubble of the U. S. Steel Corp.'s applied research laboratory at Monroeville.

The gold medal and scroll symbolizing the award will be presented at a dinner meeting of the section on March 11 at the Pittsburgh Athletic Association. The medal bears the likeness of Dr. Bleininger, one of the founders of the American Ceramic Society, who attained great prominence for his contributions to the advancement of ceramics.

Born at Baraboo, Wisc., Dr. Andrews attended public schools in Oshkosh, Wisc., and received bachelor's and master's degrees in chemistry from the University of Wisconsin. In 1924, he received a doctor of philosophy degree from Ohio State University and then was appointed professor of ceramic engineering at Alfred University in Alfred, N. Y.

The following year, he joined the staff of the Department of Ceramic Engineering at the University of Illinois. He was appointed head of the department in 1942, holding the post until he retired two years ago.

The award committee's citation said Dr. Andrews "in addition to his many outstanding technical accomplishments, is perhaps most noted for his ability to promote the potential of his students. . ." It added that "Dr. Andrews has consistently stressed the importance of new technical people in progressive organizations and also has been a great force in promoting their continuing education in a changing industrial world."

One of his major accomplishments was the development of titania as an opacifier for porcelain enamels. Dr. Andrews has served in various posts with the ACS and was its president in 1939. He also has served as president of the Ceramic Education Council and the National Institute of Ceramic Engineers.

He has written about 100 articles and papers on various technical and educational subjects and is the author of several technical books including "Ceramic Tests and Calculation," "Enamels" and "Phase Equilibria as Applied to Ceramics."

Another highlight of the Pittsburgh Section's meeting last night was an address, "The Ceramic Man," by Howard P. Bonebrake, president of the ACS.

He is manager of chemical sales for the Aluminum Company of America at Pittsburgh, with which he has been associated since 1925.

Soviet Hikes Defense Fund By 5 Per Cent

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union announced a 5 per cent increase in its defense budget Tuesday because of what the finance minister called "conditions of international danger."

Finance Minister Vasily Garbuzov told the Supreme Soviet (parliament) that 13.4-billion rubles will be spent on defense in 1966.

That is more than $14.8 billion at the official exchange rate and 600-million rubles ($666 million) more than the announced figure for 1965.

Many Western experts consider that the Soviet defense budget does not give an accurate picture of Soviet military spending since it does not cover all of the items normally included in the defense budgets of Western countries.

U.S. defense spending for 1966 was originally budgeted at $49 billion. Some sources in Washington estimate that it will be $52 billion or $53 billion.

In announcing a defense expenditure reduction last year of 500-million rubles, Garbuzov had appealed for other countries to follow the Soviet lead. Today he said that an increase was required by "conditions of aggravation of international danger." He accused "imperialists" of trying to create new tensions in the world.

The finance minister did not mention Viet Nam or other specific trouble spots.

Garbuzov said defense will take up 12.8 per cent of the 1966 budget.

Butler County Vote Set On School Levy

NEW MIAMI, Ohio (AP) — Voters in this Butler County school district cast ballots today on an 8.17 mill levy that was turned down in last month's election.

School officials say New Miami schools may not be able to continue through the school year unless the levy receives the required 55 per cent majority.

"Oh, I love my beer. It keeps me from aching," says Mrs. Forbes, who was born on a farm in Gentry County, Mo.

4 Youths Arrested In School Bomb Hoax

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — A bomb hoax at Hamilton Garfield High School has led to the arrest of four teen-agers who have been charged with juvenile delinquency.

Police arrested the youths, two of whom are 16 and two 17, Tuesday after an anonymous tip. Officers said one of the boys admitted calling the principal of the school Monday, saying there was a bomb in the building.

Hearing's Continued In Phone Rate Case

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Utilities Commission has continued to Dec. 15 the hearing it opened Tuesday on the Conneaut Telephone Co. request to increase rates. The commission permitted the delay so the city of Conneaut, objecting to the proposed increase, can have its counsel present.

The city solicitor couldn't make Tuesday's session at which a Conneaut city councilman testified the company's quality of service has drawn complaints. The city also contended the rates sought would be excessive and discriminatory, while the company said it isn't making an adequate profit.

Today there are holes in the ground. Next month steel girders will stretch into the sky east of the Melt Shop area at Midland works. Then stainless siding, fabricated from steel melted and finished by Crucible people, will enclose the structurals, giving shape of things to come.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Phooey on you for your reply to the young man who asked what to do about his girl friend, a brilliant young psychology major who had everything—including a mustache.

You said he ought to suggest that she bleach it or have it removed permanently by a specialist.

Your advice was cruel and thoughtless. Excessive hair is a medical problem and should be overlooked. Would you think it good manners to comment on a receding chin or a limp?

If a young woman is brilliant and charming and appeals to the intellect, a mature man should be able to look right past her mustache and see the beauty of her mind and her soul. I'm deeply disappointed in you. —HAIRY MARY.

Dear Mary: Sorry I let you down, Doll, but most men can see better than they can think.

True, excessive hair may be the result of a chemical imbalance in the system, but that doesn't mean it should be overlooked. A girl who hides a beautiful soul and a brilliant mind behind a mustache makes the treasure hunt unnecessarily difficult for young men who are in search of beautiful souls and brilliant minds.

Broken Blossom

Dear Ann: I'm a 22-year-old college student whose world has crumbled. Last night the 21-year-old girl I'm in love with told me all about herself. I was so ill this morning I couldn't make my 9 a.m. class.

Arletta and I have been going together for six months. She is beautiful, gay and behaves like the model young woman on any campus.

Last night she told me that she had given herself to a boy she went steady with in high school. They had talked about marriage and he persuaded her that she was foolish not to live life to the limit. They went together five months and broke up when he moved to another city.

I thought I wanted to marry Arletta but now I'm not sure. If she was able to fool me so completely will I ever be able to trust her? And how do I know there were not others? Please help me. I'm sick with grief.—LIKE DEAD.

Dear Like: Better write off Arletta. The way your mind is operating you'll have her pictured as the town's No. 1 street walker within a week.

Did she ask you for an affidavit of your purity? If so, would you have been able to produce one?

Love is forgiving. Its accepting people for what they are. You are unable to do this, so do both yourself and Arletta a favor and find a white-flower girl. (And lots of luck, Bub.)

Chore For All

Dear Ann: Our son, Donald, is 13 years old. He thinks my husband and I are being unfair because we insist that he take turns with his sister doing the dishes.

Donald says a 13-year-old boy should not be asked to do sissy stuff around the house. He's afraid some of his friends might hear about it and make fun of him.

My husband and I want to be fair. Will you give us your opinion?—CENSORED.

-:-

Dear Censored: There is nothing sissy about doing dishes. This is a household chore, just like emptying the trash, making the beds and scrubbing the floors. Chores should be done by both boys and girls without resentment or complaint.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Kin Arrested In Slaying Of Ohio Man, 26

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — A young Dayton area man came home Tuesday night and was fatally shot as he opened the door of his second-floor apartment.

Four hours after the slaying of Jerry Smith, 26, sheriff's officers arrested the victim's brother-in-law, James Allen, 23, at his New Lebanon trailer home.

Sheriff's officers—and radio-television newsmen and cameramen—had staked out the spot and the capture was made in the glare of TV lights.

A search had been launched after Allen, who detectives said had been harassing his sister—Smith's wife—and her 5½-month old daughter, allegedly gunned down Smith at the family's home just northwest of here.

When Allen drove up to his trailer off U.S. 35 west of here and entered, deputies knocked and Allen identified himself as a "brother" of the wanted man.

Told he was recognized, Allen threatened deputies with "either you're going to kill me or I'm going to kill you."

But he was subdued, a gun removed from his belt, and he was handcuffed.

Allen was released from Lima State Hospital only a week ago. He had been held for observation in the wounding of a Phoneton (Miami County) trailer court manager who was shot three times last July 30. He was out on $5,000 bond, according to his attorney.

The lawyer told authorities Allen had telephoned him and told him about Tuesday night's shooting. The attorney said he told Allen to give himself up and that Allen said he would meet him at Montgomery County Jail at 11:30 p.m.

As deputies brought him in at about midnight, Allen told the attorney, "Sorry I'm late but I wanted to see my four kids."

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Phooey on you for your reply to the young man who asked what to do about his girl friend, a brilliant young psychology major who had everything—including a mustache.

You said he ought to suggest that she bleach it or have it removed permanently by a specialist.

Your advice was cruel and thoughtless. Excessive hair is a medical problem and should be overlooked. Would you think it good manners to comment on a receding chin or a limp?

If a young woman is brilliant and charming and appeals to the intellect, a mature man should be able to look right past her mustache and see the beauty of her mind and her soul. I'm deeply disappointed in you. —HAIRY MARY.

Dear Mary: Sorry I let you down, Doll, but most men can see better than they can think.

True, excessive hair may be the result of a chemical imbalance in the system, but that doesn't mean it should be overlooked. A girl who hides a beautiful soul and a brilliant mind behind a mustache makes the treasure hunt unnecessarily difficult for young men who are in search of beautiful souls and brilliant minds.

Broken Blossom

Dear Ann: I'm a 22-year-old college student whose world has crumbled. Last night the 21-year-old girl I'm in love with told me all about herself. I was so ill this morning I couldn't make my 9 a.m. class.

Arletta and I have been going together for six months. She is beautiful, gay and behaves like the model young woman on any campus.

Last night she told me that she had given herself to a boy she went steady with in high school. They had talked about marriage and he persuaded her that she was foolish not to live life to the limit. They went together five months and broke up when he moved to another city.

I thought I wanted to marry Arletta but now I'm not sure. If she was able to fool me so completely will I ever be able to trust her? And how do I know there were not others? Please help me. I'm sick with grief.—LIKE DEAD.

Dear Like: Better write off Arletta. The way your mind is operating you'll have her pictured as the town's No. 1 street walker within a week.

Did she ask you for an affidavit of your purity? If so, would you have been able to produce one?

Love is forgiving. Its accepting people for what they are. You are unable to do this, so do both yourself and Arletta a favor and find a white-flower girl. (And lots of luck, Bub.)

Chore For All

Dear Ann: Our son, Donald, is 13 years old. He thinks my husband and I are being unfair because we insist that he take turns with his sister doing the dishes.

Donald says a 13-year-old boy should not be asked to do sissy stuff around the house. He's afraid some of his friends might hear about it and make fun of him.

My husband and I want to be fair. Will you give us your opinion?—CENSORED.

-:-

Dear Censored: There is nothing sissy about doing dishes. This is a household chore, just like emptying the trash, making the beds and scrubbing the floors. Chores should be done by both boys and girls without resentment or complaint.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

TV Gets Its Buttons Back

Strange things are happening to Red Buttons again—he's returning to TV after an 11-year layoff. "They haven't even found a girl friend for me yet. This series is being cast as they bring the actors in from the airport, but I've never been cooler. I slept like a baby last night," said the ex-burlesque comic with the pixie smile. He was between scenes last week for the first shooting day of his new TV series, "The Double Life of Henry Phyfe," scheduled to begin on ABC Jan. 13.

Hal Humphrey

-:-

RED'S SERIES replaces the canceled O.K. Crackerby, which he found out only three weeks ago. From now until the air date Red will be bottled up at the studio filming episodes back-to-back to be ready.

If it seems silly for Red to have pored through hundreds of pilot scripts for TV series the past several years, then winding up doing this big rush act, he is ignoring it.

"They sent me this script and I played it in my head and right away I felt at home. I can have fun and live with it, and I have confidence in the people doing it," he said.

"The Double Life of Henry Phyfe" deals with a run-of-the-mill bookkeeper whose nearly identical physical resemblance to an American secret agent causes him to be picked by the "CIS" to aid it after the real agent is killed.

-:-

IF THIS has a familiar ring, say perhaps with NBC's comedy cloak-and-dagger series, "Get Smart," with Don Adams, you won't get Red to admit it.

"Henry Phyfe is an ordinary and slightly shy little guy, and we have no gadgets. I don't wear cuff links that shoot poison pellets," explained Red, "and I play an inposter, not a spy."

In show business this is what is known as "the old switcheroo." If one agent is successful as a brash know-it-all wearing loaded cuff links, then why not try one who is mild mannered and never wears cuff links?

Anyway, it's good to have Red brimming with confidence and looking fit ("I can't take a punch, but I'm shifty"), because there is no doubt he is among the best of our comedy talents.

WHEN RED first went on TV (CBS) in October 1953, the critics and the audience virtually suffocated him with praise. In fact, the tension and fervor generated by his first show so dazed Red that after rehearsal for his second show a week later he fainted, and a film had to be substituted at air time.

The grind and normal attrition of a weekly stand-up comedy show began to have their effect on Red the second season and CBS dropped him. He went with NBC the next season. "And then," as Red puts it, "oblivion."

He is exaggerating, of course, as all comics must. Red took the Emmy he won in 1953 for being TV's best comedian and four years later had an Oscar to go with it—from his performance as Marlon Brando's buddy, Joe Kelly, in Joshua Logan's movie, "Sayonara."

-:-

SINCE THEN Red has appeared in 15 movies (he's being plugged for another Oscar for this year's "Harlow") and innumerable tours of the night club circuit.

"You know another reason I like this series is that it already has the aura of the old-time silent comedies," Red observed, while being touched up by makeup man Harry Ray, who had just moved over from "O.K Crackerby."

"There's a good feel to it," continued Red. "You know what we're talking about here? Mom and apple pie, that's what it is."

Still looking cool and confident, Red waited patiently for another lighting setup and the auditioning of more actors for regular roles. When asked about the writers, he said he had no idea who they were.

"I'm just performing, and it's better than laying off," he added.

Detectives Put 2-2 Together And Get One

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—City detectives put two and two together Tuesday and got one—one Columbus Workhouse escapee. They figured Artie Brown Blankenship might drop around home because his wife's relief check was due. Sure enough, he did.

Blankenship escaped early Saturday by sawing a small opening in bars on a window.

Pact Agreement Ends 98-Day Steel Strike

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — Work has resumed at the Southwestern Ohio Steel Co. whose plant was shut down for 98 days by a strike of Local 5,541 of the United Steelworkers Union.

Some 125 union members voted Tuesday to accept a new three-year contract providing for a pay hike and added fringe benefits.

Man Identified As Driver OF Car That Killed Three

CLEVELAND (AP)—John H. Barnes, 43, was identified in court Tuesday, as the driver of an auto that struck and killed three children.

Ricky Adams, 12, a survivor of the accident which occurred Nov. 12 near Boulevard Elementary School, testified at Barnes' trial in Cuyahoga County Common Pleas Court.

Barnes, charged with three counts of traffic manslaughter, has admitted driving the car, but his attorney, Norman Minor, said Barnes was not speeding and did not drive through a red traffic light. Minor also said Barnes was not intoxicated at the time of the accident.

Adams testified that Barnes was speeding and ran the traffic light. Another witness said Barnes was drinking in a tavern prior to the accident and appeared to be drunk.

Minor asked the three-judge panel hearing the case to bar spectators from the courtroom, saying Barnes had received threatening letters and had become "highly nervous." Minor's request was denied.

A Cleveland detective reported earlier to the court that he had received an anonymous telephone call warning that a relative of one of the three dead children was emotionally disturbed and might cause trouble at the trial.

The court ordered all spectators searched before entering the courtroom.

Bringing Up A Family

By Dr. GARRY MYERS

Moving Creates Hardships For Children

When the family moves, the children usually face the greatest hardship, especially if the youngsters are of elementary school age. Younger children may also have a hard time adapting to new playmates, though their problems are usually easier than those of school age children.

Dr. Garry Myers

What they may need most is a number of playmates of about their own age in the block or neighborhood.

But children over six will go to a school different from the one they had been attending—different ways on the the playground, different ways in the classroom, different teachers. Their school books may be very different — easier or harder, usually seeming harder.

What they are set to learn may be very different, as in reading, arithmetic, or spelling. On their first day in this new school they may work and play with children none of whom they ever knew before.

WHEN CHILDREN must move with their families they need more family comradeship, love and understanding than they ever needed before. Always a haven of protection and security, their home now needs to be more so than ever.

If the children can feel plenty of warmth in the family, they are the more ready to get used to any new and hard ways outside the family.

They need the help of their parents in winning new friends and playmates. They especially need their parents' interest, encouragement and help in relation to their experiences and work at school.

The earlier these parents can grow familiar with the schoolbooks and ways of teaching and learning in the new school, the more they can help their children, of course; and if these parents always had encouraged their children to tell at home of their school experiences, they should be the more eager and ready to do so now.

It may be in reading that one or more children in this family that moved may need most encouragement and help.

IF THEY are your children, you can read a great deal to them for their pleasure and read with them their school assignments, as in elementary science and the social sciences, including history and geography.

If your child lags in reading, or any other school subject, you might help him effectively if you are very calm and patient, never raising your voice or speaking angrily to him. Unless you really can be patient, you will be wise to find, through the help of the school, a person to assist him in reading for a short period daily. Any such special help should be especially valuable to the child who had entered a new school.

As early as reasonably possible you should have a conference with your child's teacher to ascertain how you might help or get help for him. Together with his teacher, she and you might both come to understand your child better.

You will try to get acquainted with other parents in the immediate neighborhood, especially those who have children near the ages of your son. You will aim to attract skillfully some of these children to your home, hoping to guide your own child in becoming a good playmate.

UNLESS you have convictions to the contrary, you will select a church or synagogue not too far away which you will aim to attend with your child and where he may attend Sunday school You might meet many other parents of your neighborhood and grow more familiar with your child's school by attending the PTA. Anything you can do to become gradually an active member of your neighborhood should prove useful to your children.

My bulletins, "Your Child and His Playmates," "Parents and the Child's Homework," "Parents Can Help Child Succeed at School," and "Home Helps in Reading, Spelling and Arithmetic," may be secured by sending a self addressed stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

TV Gets Its Buttons Back

Strange things are happening to Red Buttons again—he's returning to TV after an 11-year layoff. "They haven't even found a girl friend for me yet. This series is being cast as they bring the actors in from the airport, but I've never been cooler. I slept like a baby last night," said the ex-burlesque comic with the pixie smile. He was between scenes last week for the first shooting day of his new TV series, "The Double Life of Henry Phyfe," scheduled to begin on ABC Jan. 13.

Hal Humphrey

-:-

RED'S SERIES replaces the canceled O.K. Crackerby, which he found out only three weeks ago. From now until the air date Red will be bottled up at the studio filming episodes back-to-back to be ready.

If it seems silly for Red to have pored through hundreds of pilot scripts for TV series the past several years, then winding up doing this big rush act, he is ignoring it.

"They sent me this script and I played it in my head and right away I felt at home. I can have fun and live with it, and I have confidence in the people doing it," he said.

"The Double Life of Henry Phyfe" deals with a run-of-the-mill bookkeeper whose nearly identical physical resemblance to an American secret agent causes him to be picked by the "CIS" to aid it after the real agent is killed.

-:-

IF THIS has a familiar ring, say perhaps with NBC's comedy cloak-and-dagger series, "Get Smart," with Don Adams, you won't get Red to admit it.

"Henry Phyfe is an ordinary and slightly shy little guy, and we have no gadgets. I don't wear cuff links that shoot poison pellets," explained Red, "and I play an inposter, not a spy."

In show business this is what is known as "the old switcheroo." If one agent is successful as a brash know-it-all wearing loaded cuff links, then why not try one who is mild mannered and never wears cuff links?

Anyway, it's good to have Red brimming with confidence and looking fit ("I can't take a punch, but I'm shifty"), because there is no doubt he is among the best of our comedy talents.

-:-

WHEN RED first went on TV (CBS) in October 1953, the critics and the audience virtually suffocated him with praise. In fact, the tension and fervor generated by his first show so dazed Red that after rehearsal for his second show a week later he fainted, and a film had to be substituted at air time.

The grind and normal attrition of a weekly stand-up comedy show began to have their effect on Red the second season and CBS dropped him. He went with NBC the next season. "And then," as Red puts it, "oblivion."

He is exaggerating, of course, as all comics must. Red took the Emmy he won in 1953 for being TV's best comedian and four years later had an Oscar to go with it—from his performance as Marlon Brando's buddy, Joe Kelly, in Joshua Logan's movie, "Sayonara."

-:-

SINCE THEN Red has appeared in 15 movies (he's being plugged for another Oscar for this year's "Harlow") and innumerable tours of the night club circuit.

"You know another reason I like this series is that it already has the aura of the old-time silent comedies," Red observed, while being touched up by makeup man Harry Ray, who had just moved over from "O.K Crackerby."

"There's a good feel to it," continued Red. "You know what we're talking about here? Mom and apple pie, that's what it is."

Still looking cool and confident, Red waited patiently for another lighting setup and the auditioning of more actors for regular roles. When asked about the writers, he said he had no idea who they were.

"I'm just performing, and it's better than laying off," he added.

Detectives Put 2-2 Together And Get One

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—City detectives put two and two together Tuesday and got one—one Columbus Workhouse escapee. They figured Artie Brown Blankenship might drop around home because his wife's relief check was due. Sure enough, he did.

Blankenship escaped early Saturday by sawing a small opening in bars on a window.

Pact Agreement Ends 98-Day Steel Strike

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — Work has resumed at the Southwestern Ohio Steel Co. whose plant was shut down for 98 days by a strike of Local 5,541 of the United Steelworkers Union.

Some 125 union members voted Tuesday to accept a new three-year contract providing for a pay hike and added fringe benefits.

Man Identified As Driver OF Car That Killed Three

CLEVELAND (AP)—John H. Barnes, 43, was identified in court Tuesday, as the driver of an auto that struck and killed three children.

Ricky Adams, 12, a survivor of the accident which occurred Nov. 12 near Boulevard Elementary School, testified at Barnes' trial in Cuyahoga County Common Pleas Court.

Barnes, charged with three counts of traffic manslaughter, has admitted driving the car, but his attorney, Norman Minor, said Barnes was not speeding and did not drive through a red traffic light. Minor also said Barnes was not intoxicated at the time of the accident.

Adams testified that Barnes was speeding and ran the traffic light. Another witness said Barnes was drinking in a tavern prior to the accident and appeared to be drunk.

Minor asked the three-judge panel hearing the case to bar spectators from the courtroom, saying Barnes had received threatening letters and had become "highly nervous." Minor's request was denied.

A Cleveland detective reported earlier to the court that he had received an anonymous telephone call warning that a relative of one of the three dead children was emotionally disturbed and might cause trouble at the trial.

The court ordered all spectators searched before entering the courtroom.

Bringing Up A Family

By Dr. GARRY MYERS

Moving Creates Hardships For Children

When the family moves, the children usually face the greatest hardship, especially if the youngsters are of elementary school age. Younger children may also have a hard time adapting to new playmates, though their problems are usually easier than those of school age children.

Dr. Garry Myers

What they may need most is a number of playmates of about their own age in the block or neighborhood.

But children over six will go to a school different from the one they had been attending—different ways on the the playground, different ways in the classroom, different teachers. Their school books may be very different — easier or harder, usually seeming harder.

What they are set to learn may be very different, as in reading, arithmetic, or spelling. On their first day in this new school they may work and play with children none of whom they ever knew before.

WHEN CHILDREN must move with their families they need more family comradeship, love and understanding than they ever needed before. Always a haven of protection and security, their home now needs to be more so than ever.

If the children can feel plenty of warmth in the family, they are the more ready to get used to any new and hard ways outside the family.

They need the help of their parents in winning new friends and playmates. They especially need their parents' interest, encouragement and help in relation to their experiences and work at school.

The earlier these parents can grow familiar with the schoolbooks and ways of teaching and learning in the new school, the more they can help their children, of course; and if these parents always had encouraged their children to tell at home of their school experiences, they should be the more eager and ready to do so now.

It may be in reading that one or more children in this family that moved may need most encouragement and help.

IF THEY are your children, you can read a great deal to them for their pleasure and read with them their school assignments, as in elementary science and the social sciences, including history and geography.

If your child lags in reading, or any other school subject, you might help him effectively if you are very calm and patient, never raising your voice or speaking angrily to him. Unless you really can be patient, you will be wise to find, through the help of the school, a person to assist him in reading for a short period daily. Any such special help should be especially valuable to the child who had entered a new school.

As early as reasonably possible you should have a conference with your child's teacher to ascertain how you might help or get help for him. Together with his teacher, she and you might both come to understand your child better.

You will try to get acquainted with other parents in the immediate neighborhood, especially those who have children near the ages of your son. You will aim to attract skillfully some of these children to your home, hoping to guide your own child in becoming a good playmate.

UNLESS you have convictions to the contrary, you will select a church or synagogue not too far away which you will aim to attend with your child and where he may attend Sunday school. You might meet many other parents of your neighborhood and grow more familiar with your child's school by attending the PTA. Anything you can do to become gradually an active member of your neighborhood should prove useful to your children.

My bulletins, "Your Child and His Playmates," "Parents and the Child's Homework," "Parents Can Help Child Succeed at School," and "Home Helps in Reading, Spelling and Arithmetic," may be secured by sending a self addressed stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Beavercreek District Votes OK School Levy

XENIA, Ohio (AP)—A whopping 72.3 per cent of the voters reversed the Nov. 2 defeat of a key school levy in nearby Beavercreek District at a special election Tuesday, assuring continuation of varsity athletics among other activities threatened to be cut.

The approval of a 5.4 - mill operating levy came after the school board warned that without the proceeds there would be considerable doing without.

2 Ohio Families Are Notified Of Viet War Deaths

CLEVELAND (AP) — "He didn't want to go," said Mrs. Frank Killens. "But he wanted to do his duty. That was the important thing for him."

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: In our modern civilization, we seem to have forgotten the simple diaper rag.

I have traveled all over the world with babies but enjoyed my last trip most of all because my elderly grandmother reminded me of this age-old policy.

Now, I save all of my clean, soft rags in a box, so that when travel time comes around, my diapers are all clean and ready for the trip.

I just cut or tear the rags into shape, (mostly old sheets and linens; using the very softest ones next to baby, and the less soft ones away from his skin.

It's really a thrill to toss the dirty diapers into the garbage can forever!

PEBBY STARK.

DEAR FOLKS: Now is the time to start saving those cartons, so you will have them when you take down your tree.

These cartons are really marvelous to put your tiny lights and Christmas tree ornaments in, if the original boxes are worn, have been discarded. The cartons are nice and sturdy — instead of weaklings like the boxes decorations usually come in.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: While my griddle cakes are frying, and I'm feeling grateful for your suggestion to use a raw potato sliced in half on the pan (instead of grease) after the first ones have fried, I want to mention what I just discovered.

Instead of taking the risk of burning my hand, as I rubbed the raw potato on the pan, I just took a long-handled fork, put the prongs into the raw potato, and rubbed the pan.

This eliminated all danger of the potato slipping, and my fingers getting burned.

LEOLA MacDOUGAL.

-:-

DEAR HELOISE: Each Christmas I give away many cakes.

To solve the problem of having enough plates, and not worrying about getting mine back if I gave them away, this is what I do:

I turn a large dinner plate upside down, draw a pattern of it on heavy cardboard, then cut it out and cover the cardboard with foil.

I keep some of these covered with foil at all times, then when I need something to put a cake on (either to give away or for the freezer), the "plates" are ready to be used.

MRS. N. D. SHAPIRO.

DEAR HELOISE: When making children's flannel pajamas with feet attached, I find iron-on tape or patches ironed on the bottom of the foot of the pajamas, keeps the flannel from wearing as fast, and keeps them cleaner when the children walk in them.

If you stitch the iron-on tape on the sole before you put the pajamas together, it will stay on much longer, and not wash off.

VIRGINIA WITTERMAN.

—:—

Any mother could also press patches of iron-on tape on the bottoms of the feet of ready - made pajamas, and make them last longer, too! Great idea, eh?

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I paint my drapery rods the color of my walls.

This way, they don't stand out as prominently as when they were white.

MRS. P. R. M.

-:-

DEAR HELOISE: I read in your column about pinning baby socks together when not in use, or while washing them.

Well, how about safety-pinning the bottom half of a two-piece outfit to the baby clothes hanger, and covering it with the top piece?

This way you save on your baby clothes hangers and their clothes stay nicely pressed.

MRS. ROBERT SPOCZYNSKI.

Weirton Steel Contract OKd

WEIRTON — A new labor contract providing a 16-cent-an-hour wage increase over the next three years and 11½ cents an hour retroactive pay to last May was ratified Tuesday by the Weirton Steel Co. and the Independent Steelworkers Union.

Provisions of the contract covering 10,000 Weirton Steel employes were announced here by company president C. G. Tournay and ISU President Ralph Burkey.

The agreement includes an immediate 10-cent an hour increase and another increase of 6 cents an hour on Aug. 1, 1967.

Other provisions of the pact include an increase in insurance, retirement and pension benefits.

Burkey and Tournay said sickness and accident benefits under the contract exceed those contained in the United Steelworkers pact with the major steel producers.

The ISU contract provides for 52 weeks coverage with average weekly benefits of $90, compared with the weekly average of $80 for the rest of the steel industry.

The new contract replaces one which expired last May.

Santa and the Zabbazara Bus

BY LUCRECE BEALE

Synopsis: Driving his bus to Zabbazara, a place he made up in order to escape from Main Street, Mr. D picks up two passengers: A crocodile and a donkey.

"I am the Voodoo man," said the stranger.

CHAPTER THREE

On and on went the Zabbazara bus, with Mr. D clinging to the wheel and pressing with all his might on the gas. People gazed in astonishment as he passed them by.

"My goodness!" they exclaimed to one another. "Was there really a donkey on that bus? And a crocodile?"

Mr. D did not think it strange to have a donkey and a crocodile riding with him on the bus. He thought this was the way things were done away from Main Street. And they were much more agreeable than the passengers he had carried up and down Main Street all his life.

—:—

FOR ONE thing, they didn't make fun of him. In fact, the crocidile complimented him on his big ears.

"When you wiggle them it makes a very pleasant breeze back here," she said.

Mr. D was so pleased at this he wiggled his ears without stopping for 40 miles. The crocodile finally asked politely if he would stop because she was getting chilly.

The donkey asked Mr. D why he wore his shoes under the seat instead of on his feet. Mr. D explained that the shoes didn't fit because his feet were so big. The donkey offered to stretch the shoes with his own feet, and he did. He stretched the fronts right out of the shoes. After that they fit Mr. D's feet just fine.

WHILE THE bus was stopped for Mr. D to put on the shoes, a little boy came up and knocked on the door.

"I'm lost," said the little boy.

"Where is your home?" asked Mr. D kindly.

"I don't have any home," said the boy. "I don't have any father, and I don't have any mother. I don't have any brothers, and I don't have any sisters. I'm lost and I don't have anywhere to go."

He began to cry. The crocodile and the donkey began to cry, too, to hear such a sad story.

Mr. D said, "Get on the bus, little boy. You're not lost anymore. You're going to Zabbazara with us."

The little boy hopped on the bus. The crocodile put him on her lap and dried his tears. The donkey sang a song about boys and donkeys who didn't know who they were or where they were.

Soon they were all laughing and singing, and Mr. D thought what a wonderful bus it was. He was very, very glad he had left Main Street to set out for Zabbazara, wherever it might be.

—:—

IT WAS getting dark and it had begun to snow when Mr. D saw a bent old man standing by the road.

"He looks cold and lonely," thought Mr. D. "Perhaps he'd like to go to Zabbazara, too."

He stopped the bus and called out, "Would you like a ride?" The man got on the bus and Mr. D saw he wasn't really old—he was ageless. And he wasn't really bent—he was pulled down by the weight of the bag he carried.

"We're going to Zabbazara," said Mr. D, cheerfull.

"Then," said the stranger. "You won't mind taking me to Santa Land first."

"Santa Land! How on earth would we get to Santa Land?"

"I'll show you the way. I have business there."

"W-who are you?" stammered Mr. D.

"I'm the Voodoo man," said the stranger.

As he spoke everyone on the bus shivered with a sudden fear.

'Good View Of Attacker'

Pastor Says He Was Hit By Reeb Trial Defendant

SELMA, Ala. (AP) — A California minister, testifying in the murder trial of three white men, says he was struck by one of the defendants in a street attack which left the Rev. James J. Reeb of Boston fatally wounded.

"I had a very good view of the man who was attacking me," said the Rev. Clark Olsen of Berkeley, Calif., a companion of the slain minister.

Another clergyman, the Rev. Orloff Miller of Boston, who also was attacked, testifies today as the second prosecution witness.

"I turned to face him," Olsen testified Tuesday. "I was facing him before he hit me."

"Do you think you could recognize him if you were to see him again?" asked prosecutor Virgis M. Ashworth.

The courtroom was quiet. All eyes were on the slender, dark-haired minister. Olsen stood, searched the crowded courtroom and then pointed to heavy-set Elmer L. Cook, 42, one of the three white men charged with first-degree murder in Reeb's death.

That was the man, said the witness, who attacked him the night of March 9 when Reeb was clubbed to the pavement on a Selma street shortly after a civil rights march. Reeb died two days later of multiple skull fractures and a massive blood clot on the brain.

When Olsen was asked if he could recognize anyone else who took part in the attack, he said he could not be positive but that the other two defendants, brothers Namon O'Neal Hoggle, 31, and William Stanley Hoggle, 37, resembled two of the assailants.

"I cannot positively identify them," the witness said. "All I can say is they resemble the men."

The jury of white men listened intently. The jurors were selected after the prosecution struck two men who said they felt that Reeb should not have come to Selma. Other jury panel members were silent when asked if the slain minister's civil rights activities would prejudice their verdict.

Defense attorney Joseph T. Pilcher, firing questions before the clergyman finished his answers, went into detail about the activities of the three ministers — all Unitarians who flew to Selma after Negro marchers were beaten by state troopers.

On cross-examination, Olsen denied telling police officers the night of the attack that he did not know if the assailants were white or Negro. He said he could not remember if he had told investigators it would be extremely difficult to identify the men.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: In our modern civilization, we seem to have forgotten the simple diaper rag.

I have traveled all over the world with babies but enjoyed my last trip most of all because my elderly grandmother reminded me of this age-old policy.

Now, I save all of my clean, soft rags in a box, so that when travel time comes around, my diapers are all clean and ready for the trip.

I just cut or tear the rags into shape, (mostly old sheets and linens; using the very softest ones next to baby, and the less soft ones away from his skin.

It's really a thrill to toss the dirty diapers into the garbage can forever!

PEBBY STARK.

DEAR FOLKS: Now is the time to start saving those cartons, so you will have them when you take down your tree.

These cartons are really marvelous to put your tiny lights and Christmas tree ornaments in, if the original boxes are worn, have been discarded. The cartons are nice and sturdy — instead of weaklings like the boxes decorations usually come in.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: While my griddle cakes are frying, and I'm feeling grateful for your suggestion to use a raw potato sliced in half on the pan (instead of grease) after the first ones have fried, I want to mention what I just discovered.

Instead of taking the risk of burning my hand, as I rubbed the raw potato on the pan, I just took a long-handled fork, put the prongs into the raw potato, and rubbed the pan.

This eliminated all danger of the potato slipping, and my fingers getting burned.

LEOLA MacDOUGAL.

-:-

DEAR HELOISE: Each Christmas I give away many cakes.

To solve the problem of having enough plates, and not worrying about getting mine back if I gave them away, this is what I do:

I turn a large dinner plate upside down, draw a pattern of it on heavy cardboard, then cut it out and cover the cardboard with foil.

I keep some of these covered with foil at all times, then when I need something to put a cake on (either to give away or for the freezer), the "plates" are ready to be used.

MRS. N. D. SHAPIRO.

DEAR HELOISE: When making children's flannel pajamas with feet attached, I find iron-on tape or patches ironed on the bottom of the foot of the pajamas, keeps the flannel from wearing as fast, and keeps them cleaner when the children walk in them.

If you stitch the iron-on tape on the sole before you put the pajamas together, it will stay on much longer, and not wash off.

VIRGINIA WITTERMAN.

-:-

Any mother could also press patches of iron-on tape on the bottoms of the feet of ready - made pajamas, and make them last longer, too! Great idea, eh?

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I paint my drapery rods the color of my walls.

This way, they don't stand out as prominently as when they were white.

MRS. P. R. M.

DEAR HELOISE: I read in your column about pinning baby socks together when not in use, or while washing them.

Well, how about safety-pinning the bottom half of a two-piece outfit to the baby clothes hanger, and covering it with the top piece?

This way you save on your baby clothes hangers and their clothes stay nicely pressed.

MRS. ROBERT SPOCZYNSKI.

Santa and the Zabbazara Bus

BY LUCRECE BEALE

Synopsis: Driving his bus to Zabbazara, a place he made up in order to escape from Main Street, Mr. D picks up two passengers: A crocodile and a donkey.

"I am the Voodoo man," said the stranger.

CHAPTER THREE

On and on went the Zabbazara bus, with Mr. D clinging to the wheel and pressing with all his might on the gas. People gazed in astonishment as he passed them by.

"My goodness!" they exclaimed to one another. "Was there really a donkey on that bus? And a crocodile?"

Mr. D did not think it strange to have a donkey and a crocodile riding with him on the bus. He thought this was the way things were done away from Main Street. And they were much more agreeable than the passengers he had carried up and down Main Street all his life.

-:-

FOR ONE thing, they didn't make fun of him. In fact, the crocidile complimented him on his big ears.

"When you wiggle them it makes a very pleasant breeze back here," she said.

Mr. D was so pleased at this he wiggled his ears without stopping for 40 miles. The crocodile finally asked politely if he would stop because she was getting chilly.

The donkey asked Mr. D why he wore his shoes under the seat instead of on his feet. Mr. D explained that the shoes didn't fit because his feet were so big. The donkey offered to stretch the shoes with his own feet, and he did. He stretched the fronts right out of the shoes. After that they fit Mr. D's feet just fine.

WHILE THE bus was stopped for Mr. D to put on the shoes, a little boy came up and knocked on the door.

"I'm lost," said the little boy.

"Where is your home?" asked Mr. D kindly.

"I don't have any home," said the boy. "I don't have any father, and I don't have any mother. I don't have any brothers, and I don't have any sisters. I'm lost and I don't have anywhere to go."

He began to cry. The crocodile and the donkey began to cry, too, to hear such a sad story.

Mr. D said, "Get on the bus, little boy. You're not lost anymore. You're going to Zabbazara with us."

The little boy hopped on the bus. The crocodile put him on her lap and dried his tears. The donkey sang a song about boys and donkeys who didn't know who they were or where they were.

Soon they were all laughing and singing, and Mr. D thought what a wonderful bus it was. He was very, very glad he had left Main Street to set out for Zabbazara, wherever it might be.

-:-

IT WAS getting dark and it had begun to snow when Mr. D saw a bent old man standing by the road.

"He looks cold and lonely," thought Mr. D. "Perhaps he'd like to go to Zabbazara, too."

He stopped the bus and called out, "Would you like a ride?" The man got on the bus and Mr. D saw he wasn't really old—he was ageless. And he wasn't really bent—he was pulled down by the weight of the bag he carried.

"We're going to Zabbazara," said Mr. D, cheerfull.

"Then," said the stranger. "You won't mind taking me to Santa Land first."

"Santa Land! How on earth would we get to Santa Land?"

"I'll show you the way. I have business there."

"W-who are you?" stammered Mr. D.

"I'm the Voodoo man," said the stranger.

As he spoke everyone on the bus shivered with a sudden fear.

'Good View Of Attacker'

Pastor Says He Was Hit By Reeb Trial Defendant

SELMA, Ala. (AP) — A California minister, testifying in the murder trial of three white men, says he was struck by one of the defendants in a street attack which left the Rev. James J. Reeb of Boston fatally wounded.

"I had a very good view of the man who was attacking me," said the Rev. Clark Olsen of Berkeley, Calif., a companion of the slain minister.

Another clergyman, the Rev. Orloff Miller of Boston, who also was attacked, testifies today as the second prosecution witness.

"I turned to face him," Olsen testified Tuesday. "I was facing him before he hit me."

"Do you think you could recognize him if you were to see him again?" asked prosecutor Virgis M. Ashworth.

The courtroom was quiet. All eyes were on the slender, dark-haired minister. Olsen stood, searched the crowded courtroom and then pointed to heavy-set Elmer L. Cook, 42, one of the three white men charged with first-degree murder in Reeb's death.

That was the man, said the witness, who attacked him the night of March 9 when Reeb was clubbed to the pavement on a Selma street shortly after a civil rights march. Reeb died two days later of multiple skull fractures and a massive blood clot on the brain.

When Olsen was asked if he could recognize anyone else who took part in the attack, he said he could not be positive but that the other two defendants, brothers Namon O'Neal Hoggle, 31, and William Stanley Hoggle, 37, resembled two of the assailants.

"I cannot positively identify them," the witness said. "All I can say is they resemble the men."

The jury of white men listened intently. The jurors were selected after the prosecution struck two men who said they felt that Reeb should not have come to Selma. Other jury panel members were silent when asked if the slain minister's civil rights activities would prejudice their verdict.

Defense attorney Joseph T. Pilcher, firing questions before the clergyman finished his answers, went into detail about the activities of the three ministers — all Unitarians who flew to Selma after Negro marchers were beaten by state troopers.

On cross-examination, Olsen denied telling police officers the night of the attack that he did not know if the assailants were white or Negro. He said he could not remember if he had told investigators it would be extremely difficult to identify the men.

Weirton Steel Contract OKd

WEIRTON — A new labor contract providing a 16-cent-an-hour wage increase over the next three years and 11½ cents an hour retroactive pay to last May was ratified Tuesday by the Weirton Steel Co. and the Independent Steelworkers Union.

Provisions of the contract covering 10,000 Weirton Steel employes were announced here by company president C. G. Tournay and ISU President Ralph Burkey.

The agreement includes an immediate 10-cent an hour increase and another increase of 6 cents an hour on Aug. 1, 1967.

Other provisions of the pact include an increase in insurance, retirement and pension benefits.

Burkey and Tournay said sickness and accident benefits under the contract exceed those contained in the United Steelworkers pact with the major steel producers.

The ISU contract provides for 52 weeks coverage with average weekly benefits of $90, compared with the weekly average of $80 for the rest of the steel industry.

The new contract replaces one which expired last May.

Junior Editors Quiz on FEDERAL LAWS

QUESTION: How do bills become federal laws?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: Bills are proposals for laws. They are introduced in Congress by senators or representatives in their own wings of the Capitol. These legislators may have originated the bills, or they may have been framed by committees or recommended by the President. Or they may have come from public opinion in the legislator's own area, as expressed by the home folks. Such bills may be presented in either Senate or House of Representatives, except for revenue bills, which always come from the House. We follow a bill presented in the House (1). After being printed, it is referred to a commitee (2). The committee may approve, change it or table it—which means delay action on it. If urgent, a special committee can rush it back to the House ahead of other bills. It is then considered by the House and if passed, sent to the Senate (4) where it goes through a similar process (5), (6), (7). If approved by the Senate, it has then been approved by the entire Congress and is sent to the President. If he signs it, it becomes the law of the land. If he vetoes it, it is returned to Congress and cannot become law unless passed by both houses of Congress again, with a two-thirds majority.
